FEAR U. S. SHIP LOST AT VERA CRUZ

GREAT AIR DISASTER AVERTED

SET ADRIFT WHEN MOORINGS BROKEN

Huge Craft Victorious In Nine Hour Struggle With Wind and Rain

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The navy dirigible Shenandoah has "made good" for its coming flight to the North Pole, Secretary of the Navy Denby said today.

LAKEHURST, N. J., Jan. 17.—The Shenandoah, "Daughter of the Stars," proved herself today mistress of the sky.

Naval aviators who were aboard the big dirigible on her wild night ride which ended safely today after the Shenandoah had been torn from her mooring post and swirled northward to New York by a 73-mile gale, were enthusiastic as they hailed the craft "the greatest airship ever built."

The graceful nose was torn away, two helium tanks destroyed and a third damaged, her interior forward wrecked and twisted by the fury of the storm. But the damage can be quickly repaired, probably at a cost of approximately $100,000.

And the Shenandoah has demonstrated she can ride out the worst of gales. Her proposed trip to the North Pole is declared an assured success.

Captain McCrary, the dirigible's commander, who missed the day away trip by half an hour, waited for word today from the naval board before ordering an investigation into the circumstances surrounding the incident that might have ended in disaster and the death of the airship's 22 passengers and crew.

None of the latter received a scratch. After the first crash as a sudden blast of the storm wrenched the Shenandoah from the mooring tower where she was undergoing a seven day test, the ship was always under control.

The nose of the Shenandoah had been torn off completely and flapped from the masthead at the end of her mooring chain. This added tremendously to the difficulties of maneuvering. But at 1:50 a. m. the searchlights at the airfield picked out of the night the welcome sight of the silver Shenandoah, safely home.

It was the work of three hours to bring her down. The storm had abated by this time, but gusts of wind persisted in getting into the aperture where the airship's nose plate had been ripped away.

A ground force of 300 men on hand to help the dirigible into its nest. Maneuvering with consummate skill, the veteran Captain Heinen brought her gradually down, a few hundred feet at a time, cautious, now that the greater disaster had been averted, of the least accident to the ship.

Crew is Happy
From the gondolas, the crew shouted cheery greetings to those

Spaghetti Eaters In Title Race Wear Red Shirts to Hide Spots

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 17.—Walter Randazzo, who claims he is the champion spaghetti eater of the world, will defend his title tonight against two picked countrymen.

Randazzo consumed 892 feet of the Italian cabbage in seven minutes and fourteen seconds a year ago when he won the championship of Little Italy.

Tonight in seven minutes of furious competition with Frank Ruffolo and Joe Damante, Randazzo expects to devour a half mile of spaghetti.

"My teknek, the improve with practice," the champion boasted. "I eat 50 miles of spaghetti since I become the champion. Each time de

Predicts New Quakes On Pacific Coast

ROME, Jan. 17.—Following verification by the Japanese quake of Tuesday of Professor Raffaele Bandandini's prediction of disturbances on that date, the Italian seismologist, who claims to have discovered the secret of earthquakes, now states that the Japanese disturbance will extend to other portions of the globe.

There will be new quakes in the Pacific region, he says, between January 18 and 20 and on the Asiatic coast on the 29th or 30th.

TELL PLANS FOR CHANGE IN TAX ACT

Administration Leaders In House Work On Compromise to Win Over Opposition.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Details of a compromise tax plan which will not destroy the Mellon plan were being worked out today by the administration leaders in the house.

Republican chiefs plan to accept the high sur-tax rates proposed in the Democratic plan by Representative Garner, Texas, but fix the brackets so that incomes below $200,000 will not be hit by the maximum rates.

By doing this they believe the compromise will satisfy the Democratic-Progressive coalition now in control of the house and yet be satisfactory to President Coolidge, who is opposed to any compromise on the principle of the Mellon plan.

FATHER LOSES COURT FIGHT; UNCONSCIOUS

(By United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—Falling unconscious to the court room floor, Leigh B. Fleming, automobile manufacturer of Ufida, N. Y., was today in a serious condition, following the awarding of his 8-year-old daughter to the custody of the mother, Mrs. Mary Mae Fleming, by Superior Judge Archibald.

Fleming brought his daughter to Los Angeles some weeks ago. He claimed he had a court order giving him custody of the child, but was arrested here on a charge of kidnapping. The couple was divorced in the East some time ago.

Mrs. Fleming was awarded the girl after she produced a writ from the New York supreme court, authorizing her to take possession of the child.

She left the courtroom immediately, and said she would catch the next train for the East.

Fleming was carried unconscious into the judge's chamber. He was revived with difficulty.

Judge Landis Raps Bonus Opposition

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—"Moneyed interests" have clubbed together to beat the proposed war veterans' compensation measure, Judge Kene-saw M. Landis, arbiter of baseball, believes.

In a speech here he assailed the opponents of the compensation bill as "the same politicians who were guilty of moral treason during the war."

The red fronts, Randazzo explained, match the tomato sauce in which the long strings of spaghetti, carefully measured, are set before the consumers.

When spaghetti is pitched by professionals the sauce splatters and red spots on white fronts look untidy at a select party.

BOSSES FACE HOT ATTACK BY MCADOO

Deadlock In Convention Seen As Candidates Launch Campaigns

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Striking at the Brennan-Murphy-Taggart combination that forms his most formidable opposition, William G. McAdoo will make his campaign for the Democratic nomination for president on a platform of "progress versus bossism."

McAdoo plans to take the offensive before his enemies have a chance to put him on the defensive. This is his only hope, he and his friends feel, not only of holding the delegates they now have, but of adding those necessary to insure his nomination.

Months of bitterest political warfare in the Democratic party's history will be the sequel. Between now and June 24 McAdoo's energies will be bent toward breaking the deadlock into which the Democratic convention has fallen before it meets.

McAdoo's friends today claim more than 600 of the 1,094 delegates. They need 730 to nominate. Rival candidates, including a half dozen favorite sons claim a total of more than 700 delegates. Somebody is wrong because the combined claims add up to more than the membership of the convention.

But from the best evidence obtainable it seems that at the moment McAdoo controls nearly, if not wholly, a majority of the convention; that his opponents quite as completely control enough votes to keep him from being nominated. This means an endurance contest in the convention, with an eventual compromise, unless in the meantime either McAdoo or his opponents can line up the needed delegates.

MASONIC BODIES PLAN FOR NEW BUILDING

Trustees of the Masonic Temple association here today had adopted sketches providing for erection of a three-story brick structure on the site of the old fire hall, adjoining the temple on the north, on Sycamore street, near Fifth street, it was announced by O. M. Robbins, secretary.

In addition the trustees, meeting last night in the office of the Santa Ana Building and Loan association, instructed the building committee to confer with the architect, H. Newton Thornton, with the view of having plans and specifications prepared for estimating as soon as practicable.

To Do Remodeling.
Masonic temple improvement plans call for remodeling of the present structure in conjunction with the proposed new building.

It is the intention to have the plans so drawn that the new building can be erected before any remodeling of the present temple is done. Estimates will be called for construction of the new building, alone, and also for both construction of the new building and remodeling of the old.

The sketches adopted for the new building call for a women's parlor and rest room, 27 by 29, fronting on the street on the first floor. A fireplace would be provided. To the rear of this would be an amusement room and dance hall, 29 by 60, with kitchen and buffet, and connecting through shafts with the parlors and clubrooms.

Other Changes.
The second story will have a parlor at the front for the men, and next to the rear, a new lodge room, 74 by 29, with a seating capacity of 150.

The third floor will provide for the enlargement of the present dining room, doubling its present capacity, making it 40 by 89. The dining room will be used for dances and the social gatherings of the order.

The plans will also provide for a larger seating capacity in the present lodge room by placing arches on the south side, extending the present room twenty feet on the

U. S. Guns Give Obregon Confidence In New Drive

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 17.—"A simultaneous offensive on all fronts will go forward in a few days. You will see immediately the overwhelming strength of the government," General Serrano, minister of war in the Obregon government, informed the United Press today.

President Obregon today telegraphed to the United Press from the east front:

"Thousands 45's bought from the United States arrived today. By tomorrow we will have eight fighting planes ready for action. We have gas but we will not use it.

"I have no fear for the outcome. We have munitions, loyal troops, all the necessary funds and a righteous cause."

The Mexican foreign ministry expressed satisfaction at the American warning to Adolfo de la Huerta that the embargo at Tampico must not interfere with legitimate commerce, and added that Mexican officialdom never was so appreciative as now of the United States' "constructive Mexican policy."

SENATOR DEMANDS WIDE PROBE INTO AFFAIRS OF WOOD

(By United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Complete investigation of the administration of General Leonard Wood in the Philippines was demanded in a resolution introduced in the senate today by Senator Ladd, North Dakota. Stock transactions of Lieut. Osborne C. Wood, son of the governor-general, also would come within the scope of the investigation.

A committee of five senators would be appointed to conduct the inquiry.

The investigating committee would be charged to ascertain: "Truth or falsity of Manila cablegrams sent to American newspapers alleging that certain senators and representatives and others received pay from the Philippine independence commission for espousing the cause of independence.

"Actions of General Wood in relation to the Philippine government, its legislation, its banks and its railways, sugar centrals and efforts, if any, to exploit the islands by American commercial interests.

"Deposits of Philippine government money in American banks.

"Stock transactions of any army or navy officers or other officials or people associated with Governor General Wood; how said stock transactions were conducted and any other matters proper for a full report thereon to aid congress in preparing any necessary remedial legislation."

40 PERSONS IN COURT VENUE ARE DRAWN

Names of the forty men and women selected for trial jury service in the superior court here during the ensuing three months, were drawn today by Superior Judge F. C. Drumm, who issued instructions for all to report in his court for service January 23, at 10 a. m.

The names of the group were drawn from the venire of 160 names submitted for jury service during the year. Another group of forty will be drawn for service during the second quarter of the year and the drawings repeated until all have served.

Members of the group drawn today are C. O. Helm, Mrs. Laura A. Walker, T. B. Dunham, W. A. Dyer, Mrs. Bertha Brown, S. S. Jackson, Mrs. Walter Congdon, Robert J. Fyfe, Walter R. Zeilley, W. E. Askin, P. E. Newman, F. D. Plavan, George McNeill, James Wilson, Mrs. Carrie Ford, J. W. Young, Stephen Rimpau, M. L. Lam.

H. L. Sherman, C. K. Lee, George Grant, John P. Weinschenck, A. J. Gaymon, Mrs. Ethel Dunning, D. H. Goodwin, Samuel Clapp, Mrs. H. Jessup, W. D. Johnston, J. T. Wilson, Ruth H. Wallace, Roy Johnson, John T. Kinslow, Potter L. Hitchcock, C. W. Thornthwaite, Mrs. Ota J. Double, Flossie Hemp-hill, Stephen Ross, Tom Smith, Lucien Flippen and C. W. Bean.

Attribute Flames To Crossed Wires

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—Crossed wires were believed responsible for the fire which early today swept the Sherman Burkhard mansion in the Westlake district. The residence is now used by the Electric Institute, a medical research clinic. Only a caretaker was in the structure at the time of the fire.

SHARP CROP REDUCTION IS FACED

County Catholic Parishes Join In Plea That No. Cal. Get Moisture

Acting upon the request of Archbishop Hanna and Bishop Cantwell, St. Joseph's church of this city, the Rev. Fr. H. Eummelen, pastor, today joined other Catholic churches throughout California in offering prayers for rain.

"Our prayers," said the Rev. Fr. Eummelen, "are offered in response to appeals sent to the archbishop and Bishop Cantwell from the great agricultural districts of California, where rain is badly needed."

"The prayers in the San Francisco and Los Angeles dioceses began Sunday, following mass, and letters to all the Catholic churches in these districts have been sent out by the bishops. Santa Ana and Orange county churches are complying with this request, as well as the churches in all sections of the Southland."

According to information received by the Rev. Fr. Eummelen, many land owners and ranchers fear sharp crop reductions unless rainfall is bounteous within the immediate future.

So far, according to the Rev. William E. Roberts, president of the Santa Ana Ministerial association, no concerted movement of this kind has been launched in the Protestant churches. In many sections of Northern California the lack of moisture is said to be particularly acute.

SPECIAL MASS CALL SENT THROUGHOUT STATE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—Religious denominations of California today continued their prayers for rain.

Northern California particularly is suffering from the drought in this, one of the driest Januaries on record, with only .65 inches of rainfall here so far in a month with an average of 4.90 inches rainfall.

Last week Archbishop E. J. Hanna, head of the Catholic diocese of California, issued formal instructions to the pastors of all Catholic churches to utter the following prayer immediately after mass, starting January 13:

"O, God, in Whom we live and are, grant us seasonal rain that we, enjoying a sufficiency of support in this life, may with more confidence strive after things eternal."

The archbishop has instructed the various parishes to hold special masses for rain. All convents were ordered to take part. While no other denomination is making its petition under such formal instructions, many pastors of all creeds are voicing the plea of their flocks for seasonal weather.

BRITISH LABOR OPENS FIGHT ON BALDWIN

(By United Press Leased Wire)
LONDON, Jan. 17.—Labor's move to overthrow the Baldwin government was made in commons at 4 p. m. today.

J. R. Clynes, laborite M. P. moved an amendment to a motion approving the king's speech in which he called the "attention of your majesty to the fact that your majesty's present advisers have not the confidence of this house."

"We are making monstrous preparations for a new war," Clynes continued, "when we treat Germany now worse than she treated France in 1870. Therefore we cannot longer merely watch and wait."

"We do not, however, seek the downfall of the government merely for the purpose of class domination."

H. H. Asquith, liberal leader and ex-prime minister, was the next speaker.

"I will vote in the favor of the labor amendment and advise all my friends to do the same," he said. "It seems impossible that any liberal or labor members of this house can fail to support it."

Office Of Dry Head Under Fire In House

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Investigation of federal enforcement of prohibition and the office of Commissioner Haynes, by a special congressional committee, was demanded in a resolution offered today in the house by Representative Hill, Maryland, wet leader.

Hill said he was prompted by the charges of Gov. Pinchot of Pennsylvania before the Anti-Saloon League convention that federal enforcement was a scandal and should be investigated. He called on "all sincere prohibitionists" to back his measure.

URGE PROBE OF LOBBYING IN CONGRESS

Mellon Tax Plan, Bonus, League of Nations and Bok Plan Facing Inquiry.

(By United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—"Lobbyists" will be investigated by a special separate committee under authorization given by the senate.

The Reed resolution demanding an inquiry into alleged publicity campaigns regarding the Mellon tax plan, the bonus and the league of nations was adopted without objection.

The Bok peace plan also will come under the resolution.

JULIAN OPENS COURT FIGHT OVER FUNDS

(By United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—In a courtroom crowded with stockholders and interested spectators, the case of C. C. Julian, well known oil promoter, against State Corporation Commissioner Daugherty, was called by Judge Mahon today.

The oil man is making his fight to secure release of $1,793,215 of corporation funds which Daugherty has impounded in local banks during an investigation of Julian's stock-selling activities.

Examination of L. N. Connelly, superintendent of franchises and right of way, was the principal witness today. He testified regarding the activity of the Julian corporation in buying petroleum, building pipe lines and engaging in other exploitation activities, in which, Julian declares, 40,000 residents of California and the Southwest have joined him by subscribing for stock in his enterprises.

Connelly told of the firm's program of 60 gasoline filling stations in Los Angeles—a program which was, however, halted when sixteen were constructed and put in operation.

Corporation Commissioner Daugherty was not present when the case opened today, but telegraphed that he would arrive here from San Francisco tomorrow to take personal charge of his side of the hearing.

U. S. Ambassador To Rome to Quit

ROME, Jan. 17.—American ambassador to Italy Richard Washburn Child announced today that he is definitely retiring in accordance with arrangements made with President Coolidge. Child will sail for New York from Cherbourg January 26.

"30" BULLETINS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—A committee of engineers to make definite plans for controlling floods in the Colorado river is being organized by Secretary of the Interior Work, it was announced today. The committee also will plan development of water power and storage for irrigation or arid lands in the lower Colorado river basin.

Maneuvers Show Canal Zone At Mercy Of Guns On Enemy Fleet

WITH THE ATLANTIC FLEET, COLON, PANAMA, Jan. 17.—Two main developments stood out today after the first day of maneuvers in the great naval war games now under way here to test the defenses of the Atlantic entrance to the Panama canal.

First, an enemy fleet lying 15 or 20 miles off Colon, armed with 16 inch guns, would be

VESSEL ON ROCKS IN STORM

Messages From Scene of Disaster Fails to Give Word of Crew

TUG STANDS BY TO GIVE ASSISTANCE

Suspect Rebel Action In Putting Out Lights Was Cause of Disaster

(By United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Navy officials fear that the cruiser Tacoma, aground near Vera Cruz, Mexico, is a total loss.

A dispatch received by the navy department early today said the cruiser was virtually on its side, with three of its four compartments flooded with water. No information as to the crew has been received.

A tug was working alongside the Tacoma today in an effort to ease the position of the vessel, which was reported filling in advices sent here by the Port Arthur wireless station.

SHIPS RUSHING TO AID OF STRICKEN CRUISER

GALVESTON, Tex., Jan. 17.—Lashed by the storm swept waves of the western Gulf of Mexico, the U. S. Cruiser Tacoma was still hard aground today on the jagged rocks at Blanquilla Reef, off Vera Cruz harbor, according to radiograms picked up by the Port Brown wireless station at Point Isabel and relayed here.

A tug from Vera Cruz, prevented from reaching the vessel by the mountainous waves, is standing by. The steamship Allegheny has been ordered to the vessel's aid from Pensacola and the U. S. Cruiser Richmond was plowing through the gulf to her assistance from New Orleans.

Although battered through the night by the huge combers, the Tacoma is not believed to be in imminent danger.

The Tacoma carries a crew of 300 men. She was despatched from this port several days ago to protect American interests in the rebel headquarters of Adolfo de la Huerta.

Orders of rebel authorities to extinguish all lighthouses and light ships in the vicinity of Vera Cruz to hinder trade with the Obregon government are believed responsible for the accident to the Tacoma.

In the dense blackness of the storm swept night, it is believed the vessel strayed from the main channel of the uncharted harbor and crashed onto the jagged rocks of the reef.

With abatement of the heavy seas expected today, the tug should be able to reach the side of the stricken cruiser and pull her clear of the rocks, naval authorities here believe.

WOULD PURCHASE LINE
WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The Visalia Electric railway, California, today asked the Interstate Commerce commission for authority to acquire the eleven mile line of the Chowchilla Pacific railroad, which extends from Chowchilla to Dairyland, Cal.

WOULD STAR PRINCE
HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 17.—"Starling the Prince of Wales" may be emblazoned in front of motion picture theaters throughout the world. Fred Niblo, director, has cabled His Royal Highness asking if he "would consider playing in a historical photoplay of magnitude and dignity."

able to bombard the vital Gatun locks, which are seven miles inland, without danger from the shore defenses, the largest guns of which are 14 inch rifles which would be out-ranged ten miles.

M. and M. Directors Outline New Service, Membership Plans Here

Recently-elected officers and directors of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association today outlined a tentative campaign for that organization during the year. "Sell the association to every merchant in Santa Ana," will be the slogan of board members while they are in office. By doing this they believe the service already extended by the organization.

H. A. Gerrard, manager of the Gerrard Brothers store No. 2, grocery at Spurgeon and Fourth streets, and new president of the association said:

"The idea that we want to put over this year is that the Merchants and Manufacturers' association is a necessity to the business men of this community. Briefly, we want to 'sell' the organization to the merchants.

"One does not realize the vast benefits accruing from membership in such an organization until they become an active officer in it. Since my election to the directorate I have learned of the protection given the merchants from fake advertising schemes, spurious merchandising schemes, shoplifters, and worthless check writers."

A. H. Paterson, vice president of the organization and for nine years identified with the business life of Santa Ana as manager for the Union Oil Company here, stated:

"In our program tentatively outlined for the year we want to increase the membership of the organization and 'sell' the association to every member and merchant in the city. We will endeavor to create a greater interest in the work of the organization."

B. E. Switzer, treasurer, a recent arrival in Santa Ana from Los Angeles, and store superintendent and assistant to the general manager of Rankin's Dry Goods store, said:

"In addition to the 'selling' of the organization to the members we are going to take a more active interest in the civic problems of Santa Ana. Greater co-operation with the various organizations functioning here for the betterment of the community, will be one of our principal items on the 1924 program. We will also try and foster a greater inclination 'to buy at home.'"

W. V. Whitson of the Whitson Lumber company and director of the body, added:

"My idea of the program for 1924 is to secure more funds for the carrying out of an extended service program to the merchants. To do this we will have to secure more members. There are many merchants who do not belong to the organization, but who derive vast benefits from the association's work. We will make a determined effort to secure their names on the membership rolls."

F. H. Taylor, director, head of the Taylor Canning company, declared:

"There are many things to be accomplished by the association during the year, but the principal aim is to secure more funds in order that we may develop and extend our service to the members. I believe that tentative plans for a membership campaign should occupy the thoughts of every director of the association at present."

Leo Hartfield, director, and Santa Ana jeweler for more than a year said:

"Our big item in the program for 1924 is the expansion of the association and its work. To do this we must have the co-operation of every merchant. The only way this can be secured is through their membership to the organization and I believe that an intensive campaign for members will be started."

Claude Killen, director, and member of the Killen-Miles company, concluded by saying: "Selling the association to the merchant is our big task this year. Every merchant should be informed of the work done by the organization to protect his store. To do this we should first conduct a membership campaign. Funds accruing from such campaign should and will be devoted to the expansion of the association service."

BIG DIRIGIBLE WINS BATTLE WITH GALE

After directing the ground crew through a megaphone, Captain Heinen called down to his brother officers below:

"You sons of guns were waiting for something to happen, weren't you?"

Thus the first word of mouth from the navy's "daughter of the stars" which had been lost and found again, was a characteristically carefree jest, covering up the sentiment behind.

But later today after hot coffee and much congratulations, Captain Heinen said seriously:

"We narrowly escaped the fate of the Dixmude."

The French naval dirigible Dixmude was carried from her course by a storm December 20 and was lost in the Mediterranean with all hands, a crew of fifty.

Filled With Helium The fact that the Shenandoah was filled with helium, the non-inflammable gas used by the United States navy, alleviated somewhat the fears for her safety which would have been entertained had she been inflated with hydrogen, as was the Dixmude.

It was shortly after darkness fell on the fourth day of the Shenandoah's proposed seven-day test of her ability to ride out all weather conditions at her mooring mast that the furious rainstorms proved too much for the dirigible's slender structure.

Captain Anton Heinen, pictured in an old overcoat, over a blue sweater, looked high under his jutting red Van Dyke beard, taking his turn together with Lieut. Earl H. Kincaid, Lieutenant Commander Dean, Commander Pierce, Lieutenant Mayer, another former German commander, and other officers and men, twenty-two in all.

Commander Off Ship It happened that Captain McCrary, the Shenandoah's commander, had taken his shift and was at dinner.

A terrific report, loud above the tumult of the gale, brought the officers at mess to their feet. When they rushed out into the storm and looked up to where the enfeebled rays of searchlights wavered through the driving rain, marking the mooring mast top, the Shenandoah was gone into the night.

But in the dirigible as it went hurtling through the darkness, discipline came immediately to replace confusion.

Lieutenant Kincaid, acting as officer of the deck, had just finished making an entry in the log when the ship's nose pulled loose. "Instinctively, Pierce, Heinen and I dived for the levers," Lieutenant Kincaid said, telling of the experience to a United Press correspondent.

Release Water Ballast "Within five seconds after the breakaway we had released 5,000 gallons of water ballast and thus avoided hitting the ground."

Still losing altitude and in peril of a crash, the crew hurried overboard everything that could be spared. The dirigible had to be elevated at all odds, else a crash was inevitable. Overboard went the emergency rations and a kit of spare tools. Three gasoline tanks containing 339 gallons, were also let go.

A quick examination showed that the two forward helium tanks had been destroyed and that the "away" tank immediately behind them was leaking badly.

The fabric had been rent for 75 feet back from the prow.

Members of the crew, were kept running back and forth along the narrow plank that runs from one end of the envelope to the other to keep her head and tail steady.

After the ballast had been released, however, and the ship gained altitude, her motors started quickly to combat the wind.

"Our first bearing found the Shenandoah between Elizabeth and Newark," Lieut. Kincaid said.

"We drifted across the Hudson, directly above New York City, and passed over the Statue of Liberty," Lieutenant Kincaid reported. "By this time the worst of the storm was over and Captain Heinen turned the ship into the teeth of the wind and started pounding back."

The perils of the Atlantic were most feared and the first thing Captain Heinen did when he left the ship in its hangar was to hurry to a telephone and call his wife.

Captain Heinen intends to take out citizenship papers and become an American. He is at present here to instruct the American officers in the intricacies of Zeppelin construction and maneuvering.

Last night, in the grip of the storm, the American officers did not hesitate to defer to his judgment.

On landing, he was made a bit of a hero, but would have none of it, his first thought for his wife, his next for the extent of the damage to the craft.

"The Daughter of the Skies" looked somewhat like a pig with an injured snout.

Proves Ship Strong But Captain Heinen and Lieut. Kincaid agreed the adventure proves the Shenandoah the strongest dirigible ever built.

The polar trip will be an easy matter, a certainty, they believe. "That gust which tore us away reached 72 miles an hour," said Lieutenant Kincaid. "That's four times the velocity of any wind we have to expect in a polar summer."

The seamanship and training of the airship's crew was largely responsible for the success in wrestling the navy's pride from the grip of the storm, Lieut. Kincaid said.

In two collisions in my time, one on the Yangtze river in China, and one at the Panama maneuvers," he added, "I never saw a crew behave so faultlessly. They appeared to be enjoying the work. There was no lost motion."

The Shenandoah carried no parachutes on her runaway journey. "The airship's the best parachute," Captain Heinen said, with a grin.

"Parachutes are dangerous. The crew might use them."

"No flyer ever killed if he sticks to his airship."

"If there had been a single weak link in our crew, we might have been lost," Lieut. Kincaid commented. "But naval tradition takes the utmost duty can demand as a matter of course."

Log entries were made every 30 minutes as regularly as though the Shenandoah still tugged peacefully at her mooring mast.

Here is an extract from the Shenandoah's log:

"4 P. M. Moored to mast as before. Raining. Wind gusty to 56 knots. At 6:44 p. m. ship went adrift. Let go water ballast including emergency and three gasoline tanks."

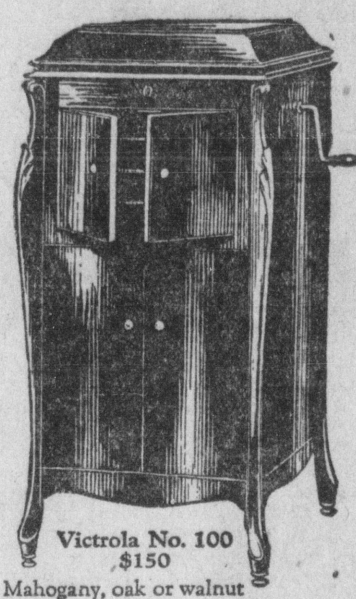

"8 P. M. Over Newark. Air speed exceeding ship speed by 16 miles per hour nautical. Following engines in use—1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 8 P. M. to midnight. Under way as before on various courses over New York City."

"Midnight, cruising as before on various courses over South Amboy in gale. Making good 48 miles an hour to south. Cruising speed all engines. ## Out tomorrow New Victor Records

Red Seal Records

Record	Artist	DOUBLE-FACED	List
		Number	Price
Loreley—Nel verde maggio	Beniamino Gigli
(In the Month of May) (Catalani) In Italian		975	$1.50
Andrea Chenier—Come un bel di di maggio	Beniamino Gigli
(As Santa Sofia Day in May) (Giordano)

The song of the Lord of Oberwesel, and the last utterance of the poet and Patriot Chenier. Memorably sung in Gigli's pure high tenor voice.

Grand Adagio	Jascha Heifetz	970	1.50
(From "Ballet Raymonda") (Glazounov) Violin Solo
Hebrew Lullaby (Achena) Violin Solo	Jascha Heifetz

With composers like Glazounov and artists like Heifetz living the divine fire of genius, in music, is in no danger of dying among the feet of humanity.

Sweetheart (Darrach-Stewart)	Ernestine Schumann-Heink	969	1.50
Dreamin' Time (de Longpre-Strickland)	Ernestine Schumann-Heink

Two songs in semi-popular style. Softly harmonious, with long-drawn, tender phrases.

Operatic Numbers

Gems from "Faust" (Gounod)	Victor Opera Company	35731	1.25
Gems from "Rigoletto" (Verdi)	Victor Opera Company

Surprising condensations of long operas on one long record. The Faust Waltz, Flower Song, the Jewel Song, the Garden Scene, the final Trio, the Soldiers' Chorus—who does not know and love them? The Duke's fete in Rigoletto, Gilda's love-song and her love-scene, "La Donna e Mobile," the Quartet—all in English.

Instrumental Record

Funeral March of a Marionette (Gounod)	Victor Symphony Orchestra	35730	1.25
Spring Morning—Serenade (Lacombe)	Victor Symphony Orchestra

Light Vocal Selections

Little Butterfly (From "Music Box Revue")	John Steel	19219	.75
An Orange Grove in California (From "Music Box Revue")	John Steel

Two records from the "Music Box Revue." As recordings, they reach the high-water mark in popular songs.

Not Here—Not There	Billy Murray	19221	.75
Big Hearted Bennie	Aileen Stanley-Billy Murray

Billy Murray has a fine travesty on the "Old Home" song, and the companion number is for married malcontents.

Dance Records

Arcady—Fox Trot (From "Bombo")

Here it is—a full record by this world-known virtuoso organization. Both numbers are models of recording for the dance.

You're in Kentucky Sure as You're Born—Fox Trot	Garber-Davis Orchestra	19216	.75
That Bran' New Gal o' Mine—Fox Trot

"You're in Kentucky" is in the style of the moment. "That Bran' New Gal" is from the "Nifties of 1923."

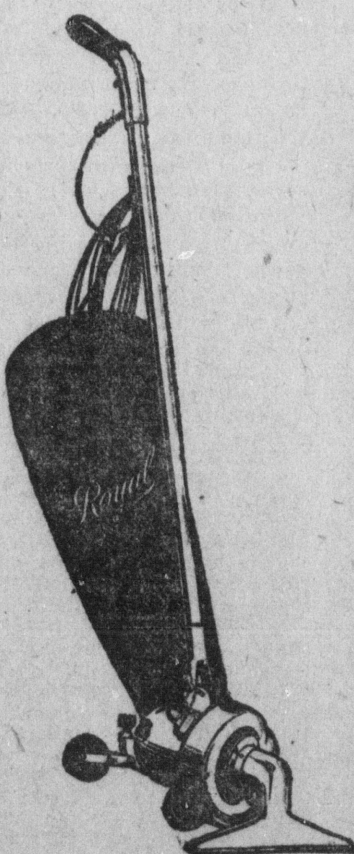

Rosita—Tango Fox Trot	International Novelty Orchestra	19218	.75
Abandonado—Waltz

Man Discovered Dead on Beach

San Francisco, Jan. 17.—Theodore E. Schei, draughtsman, 45, of 180 Lily avenue, was found dead on the beach about half a mile south of the South Side Life Saving station, a bullet through his mouth and a revolver in his hand. The body was found by William May of 2712 Mission street. Coroner's deputies could find no notes that might have furnished a clue as to the motive. A sister, Mrs. A. G. Solfort, 307 West Maple street, Seattle, has been notified.

Originally a bed consisted of merely a hollowed-out place in the ground.

People Notice It. Live Them Off With Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowels complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c—Adv.

News Briefs

Former residents of Idaho and Utah now in Orange county today had received "last call" for a dual-state picnic reunion to be held at Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles, Saturday. Following a basket dinner at noon, a program will be given at 2 p. m.

Fullerton talent will broadcast a program over KFAW, The Register radio phone tonight from 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock. Instrumental and vocal selections will be offered and included in the program will be a talk by Dr. George L. McClelland on the care of the eyes. The following artists will be heard in a fifteen-number program: Ted Corcoran, Miss Alla Bollen, Robert Goodwin, Miss Alice Corcoran, Ronald B. Collis, Miss Norma Lovring and Miss Dolly Fitzsimmons.

Contrary to the first announcement, the South Dakota mid-winter picnic will not be held this coming Saturday at Sycamore Grove in Los Angeles but is scheduled for Saturday, January 26, according to word received from the state society president South Dakotans by Judge E. T. Langley. Other details of the announcement remain unchanged, speakers will orate, friend will greet friend and hot coffee will be supplied by the committee.

Reversing an order of Tuesday, the Auto club of Southern California will issue license plates to out-of-state motorists who can prove ownership of their cars. Elmer Heidt, manager of the Santa Ana branch of the club, announced today.

A stated meeting of the Orange County Automobile Trades association will be held at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow at the garage of O. A. Hale, in this city. J. B. Glaze, secretary, announced today. Business matters of interest to members will be discussed.

City Marshal Claude Rogers today resumed his duties as head of the police department. He has just returned from a short visit with relatives at Red Bluff, Calif.

Indicating intention to co-operate with property owners in their big improvement project, the Orange County board of supervisors today had directed the county surveyor to prepare a map of the proposed district and the superintendent of county highways to prepare plans and specifications for paving Seventeenth street from the west city limits of Santa Ana to the Huntington Beach boulevard at Westminster.

Initiation of steps preliminary to the improvements of the street outside the city at once makes effective the petition filed with the city council asking creation of an assessment district for paving the unpaved portion of Seventeenth street between Ross street and the west city limits.

Stating that the outside district will embrace property located one-half mile north and one-half mile south of the street, S. H. Finley, supervisor for the first district, said today that the county would assist in the project to the extent of appropriating $30,000 from its automobile license fund.

"East Seventeenth street already is paved to Newport road," Finley said. "The proposed new paving will connect with the boulevard at Seal Beach and Long Beach, making Seventeenth street a completely paved highway virtually from the mountains on the east to the ocean at Seal Beach and Long Beach."

Finley said the county is determined to carry out the paving program outside the city and that the city council should have no further hesitancy in approving plans for the improvement of that portion of the street inside the city limits. Petition for the latter work was held up by reason of the fact that one of the largest property owners on the street signed the petition on condition that the section outside of the city, also be paved.

N. Y. Man Bidder On Muscle Shoals

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—A fifth offer for Muscle Shoals has been received by the war department. Secretary Weeks announced today.

The offer was made by E. H. Hooker of New York, one of the users of power at Niagara Falls.

Weeks could not describe the offer except to say it was of a tentative nature and made several suggestions regarding the disposition of the Muscle Shoals project.

Ford Plans Early Action On Shoals.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Henry Ford, within a day or two, will make a definite statement on whether he will repeat his offer for Muscle Shoals, Chairman Kahn told the house military affairs committee today.

CRIPPLED PRISONER DEIES $13,000 FOUND IN HIS LEG

"I am much obliged for the compliment, but I haven't got $13,000 cash, nor have I the $50,000 on deposit in any bank, as has been reported found by Deputy Sheriffs Fox and Shultz of Los Angeles. If I did have this sum, or any considerable part thereof, do you suppose that I would be having so much trouble raising $1,000 bail?"

This was the statement here today of Charles S. Stock, self-styled author and exponent of right-living, who is under arrest charged with failure to render aid after running down Florence Alsop, 1407 West Fifth street, December 18. He is held prisoner at the county hospital here, because of asserted afflictions which make his detention in the county jail impossible.

Says Press Agenting.
According to Stock, he had less than $100 when arrested in Los Angeles. Officers claim they found $13,000 in a leg-brace worn by Stock, and a bank book showing $50,000 deposits.

"Thirteen thousand dollars!" echoed Stock. "And carrying that around in an artificial leg? What a man could invest this sum and receive substantial interest on his money? And $50,000 in the bank? 'Bunk! Pure bunk! Good press agent stuff for Fox, but mighty poor business for me. I never had $13,000 in my life. If I did have I'd use it to help suffering humanity."

Stock, who declared he is a Russian Jew, said he terms his religion astrology. He believes that all are born under a certain star, and that the destinies of men are controlled by such stars. These stars are under control of a divine one whom Stock refers to as his God.

When questioned regarding the charges under which he is held, Stock denied all knowledge of the accident. He said: "I know nothing whatever about the accident. If my car ran over the girl, someone else, unknown to me, was driving it."

He intimated that "his man" might have been driving the car, but Stock failed to reveal the identity of "his man."

SLEEP MALADY FATAL TO KIN OF S. A. MAN

Friends of G. J. Daley, general superintendent of the Santa Ana Sugar company, were today expressing their regret that he failed to reach Denver in time to say farewell to his sister, Miss Mary Daley, who died at her residence there Saturday night a few hours after her brother departed from this city in response to a telegram apprising him of her sudden illness.

Miss Daley, an accomplished musician and a cultured and charming woman, made many friends in Santa Ana on the occasion of a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Daley at their home, 1807 North Main street, a few years ago.

Miss Daley's death followed a sudden attack of sleeping sickness. Her relatives attributed the illness to an automobile accident in which she was injured two years ago and from the effects of which she occasionally suffered severe pains in her head.

Her sister, Mrs. A. H. Bjorbo, former Mrs. A. H. Bjorbo, now residing in Eagle Rock, reached Denver two hours before Miss Daley's death.

For a number of years, Miss Daley had been identified with the musical life of Denver, her studio being one of the best known in that city. She had studied seven years abroad fitting herself for her profession.

The funeral was to be held this afternoon in the home of her childhood in Fertile, Iowa, near Mason City, with burial in the cemetery at Fertile.

Charles Miller today was elected president of the Santa Ana Junior college student body when students of that institution, during an assembly, elected officers for the coming semester. Miller was hard pressed for the honor by his opponent, Charles Cook, the former winning by a margin of two votes.

Merle Kennedy was elected as treasurer, but the offices of vice-president and secretary will have to be filled at a later election as no candidate received a majority of the votes. Miss Marjorie Tubbs and Leland Clark led in the race for vice-president, while the Misses Peranna Deimling and Taura Van Nest received the most votes for secretary.

Members of the Men's Organization of the junior college elected the following officers: President, Richard Taylor, vice-president, Marvin Clark; secretary-treasurer, Don Duggan; members of the student affairs committee, Marvin Clark, Philip Taylor, Jack Langley, John Steele, Loren Maddux and Charles Miller.

During the assembly the high school drama class, under the direction of Ernest Crocker Phillips, presented the one-act play "Thursdays Evening." Those in the cast were the Misses Alberta Craham, Jean Smith and Gertrude Tubbs and Norman Pike.

Vasquez Conquers Georgie Goodrich

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 17.—Johnny Vasquez, of San Francisco, defeated George Goodrich, San Diego featherweight, here last night. It was Goodrich's first defeat in San Diego after four consecutive knockouts. Fredo Lewis lost by a technical knockout to Billy Wallace, San Pedro, in the semi-windup.

Ford Plans Early Action On Shoals.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Henry Ford, within a day or two, will make a definite statement on whether he will repeat his offer for Muscle Shoals, Chairman Kahn told the house military affairs committee today.

Call British Rail Workers to Strike

LONDON, Jan. 17.—J. Bromley, secretary of the Union of Locomotive Engineers, announced today that a national rail strike of engineers and firemen had been called for Sunday night.

'98 WAR GROUP HERE INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS

New officers of Calumit camp No. 26, United Spanish War Veterans, and the Ladies' Auxiliary had assumed office today following joint installation ceremonies held at G. A. R. hall here.

Officers of the camp were installed by Comrade J. W. Lefevre, past commander of Roosevelt camp Los Angeles, and department chief of staff, as follows:

Commander, H. G. Miles, senior vice-commander, W. W. Tanager; junior vice-commander, M. C. Cooper; officer of day, Charles Kincaid; trustee, D. J. Donnelly; adjutant, B. F. Botkin; quartermaster, F. Gay; chaplain, J. W. Isbell.

Assisted by a team from Long Beach, Mrs. L. H. Crepo, junior vice department president, installed the following officers for the auxiliary:

President, Myrtle Waffie; senior vice-president, Mattie Reed, junior vice-president, Bertha Dugdale; chaplain, Dena Isbell; historian, Estella Dresser, patriotic instructor, May Glaze; conductors, Alice Gay, Emma Wassum; guards, Lila Kincaid, Edith Camp; musician, Beulah Botkin; secretary, Neta Allen; treasurer, Minerva Winter; colors, Marie Lindquist, Mary Donovan; Gertrude Rowe, Odella Markwalder.

Baskets of flowers were presented by the getting and incoming presidents by Mrs. C. E. Kearns and Mrs. Glaze and to the incoming senior vice-president, Mrs. Reed, by her daughter.

Mrs. Dresser, retiring president, was presented with a past president's pin on behalf of the members.

Following completion of the joint installation ceremonies, a banquet was served under the direction of Mart Allen. After-dinner talks were made by Lieutenant Kearns, department chief of staff and a member of McKinley camp, Los Angeles; Rolla Smith, past commander McKinley camp; Mrs. Crepo, Comrade Lefevre, Mrs. Dahl, Mrs. J. Galbreath and B. F. Botkin.

SEEK BAIL FOR MAIL RIFLING CASE MAN

That J. R. Abernathy, prominent Anaheim man under arrest in connection with the $25,000 mail theft in that city would probably provide bond for his release today, was understood here, following the arraignment of Abernathy. Charles R. Wheeler and J. L. Findlay before Deputy U. S. Commissioner Maurice Enderby.

Attorney W. F. Menton, of Santa Ana, who represented Abernathy and Wheeler at the arraignment, was understood today to be working on plans for provision of bond for Abernathy at least.

Meanwhile, the search for the missing funds alleged to have been taken from a registered mail pouch December 27 was continued without success by Federal Postal Inspectors Love and Jarvis.

It was stated that the inspectors had secured five signed statements of confession from Findlay at the county jail late yesterday. In these statements, the contents of which were not divulged, it was understood that he had elaborated on his earlier statements in which he admitted his own guilt, it was said, and implicated Wheeler and Abernathy.

Findlay, employed as mail messenger hauling the mail from the Anaheim post office to the trains, was said to have admitted taking the registered pouch from a mail sack, after he had, he said, been "tipped off" by Wheeler, a post office clerk, that a large consignment of money from the First National bank of Anaheim would be in that mail.

He claimed to have turned the pouch over to Wheeler and Abernathy on their asserted promise of a division of spoils and protection from discovery. Findlay claims that he received but $45 from the others.

At the arraignment late yesterday, Commissioner Enderby, fixed bail at $25,000 each and set the preliminary hearing of the case for January 26 at 10 a. m.

IDENTIFIES AUTO VICTIM
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—The elderly woman who was struck down and fatally injured by a truck yesterday, has been identified as Mrs. Elizabeth Stoveken by her husband, John S. Stoveken. The truck driver, Guy Smith, is being held for investigation.

This New Treatment Never Fails to End Piles

Many sufferers from Piles or Hemorrhoids have become despondent because they have been led to believe that their case was hopeless and that there was nothing in the world to help them.

To these people we say, "Go to your druggist and get an original box of MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES." One of these inserted into the rectum according to directions will be found to give immediate relief. They reach the source of the trouble and by their soothing, healing, antiseptic action first allay the pain and soreness and then by direct contact with the ulcers and piles cause them to heal up and disappear forever.

It's simply wonderful how speedily they act. Even in cases that have steadily resisted all known treatments, marvelous results have been obtained.

All druggists dispense MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES in the original box or can get it for you on short notice. C. S. Kelley will supply you. Mail orders accepted.

SIX MEALS FOR

What is real food? A prominent authority defines it as "any substance which, when taken into the body, will either produce heat and energy, or build tissue."

Hence Shredded Wheat is a super-food, because it has both energy and tissue-building properties. It contains every element needed to sustain the human body, as well as Nature's own allotment of bran so essential to keep the system properly regulated.

And compare its cost with other foods! A full meal in two biscuits—a breakfast for six for 15 cents. Shredded Wheat would be cheap at a dollar a package, because there is absolutely no waste in these oven-baked shreds of whole wheat.

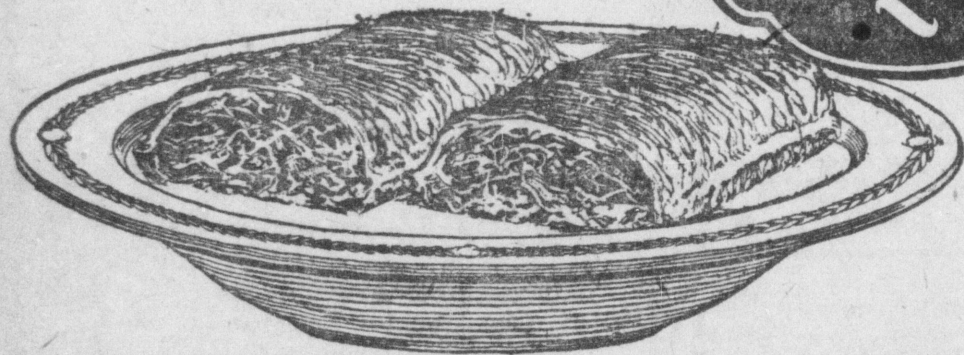

If you want to keep fit, eat easily digested, full-nourishing food. That's Shredded Wheat.

Model 58 Velie Five Passenger Touring Car—$1525 DELIVERED

New thousands are driving this car

Its mounting popularity is today's marvel in motoring circles

You have always heard, "Velie makes a good car!"

But today you hear, "Have you seen this year's Velie?—have you driven it?—have you examined the motor in detail?—did you know it is pressure lubricated even to the piston pins—and you get 20 miles or better to the gallon?"

The huge percentage of Velie owners who repeat when they want a new car, is increasing daily.

But the new thousands, renouncing all former allegiance and flocking to this Velie-58 are taxing the factory's production—and proclaiming, by action and word, a new leader in the medium-priced field.

Come in and drive this Velie today.

SEEK TO DRAW INTEREST TO RIDING CLUB

For the purpose of stimulating interest in a riding club to be organized within the immediate future, W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor, today issued an invitation to all those who love horsemanship to send their names and addresses to him at the farm bureau here.

"As soon as we receive a sufficient number of names of those who wish to join a riding club," said Cory, "we will plan an open-air meeting somewhere in the county, possibly on the Irvine ranch, where riders will work out the preliminary steps in the formation of our club."

Santa Ana has many expert horsemen, according to L. G. Swales, one of those eager to form such a club, and many riders, both men and women, in Orange county will welcome the opportunity to join the organization.

"We hope to be able to have many of these with us when we hold our open-air meeting," said Swales. "There will be a picnic dinner and, possibly, some entertainment features."

According to Cory and other farm bureau workers horsemanship offers exceptional advantages to the man or woman seeking outdoor exercise.

"There are many interesting points in the county where the club members could ride, on different occasions," said Cory, "and we will conduct tours from time to time, as the club organization progresses. All who wish to join the organization should communicate with me at the Orange county farm bureau, telephone 549."

ASKS SEPARATE FUND; ALLEGES 'TRIANGLE'

Although still living with her husband, she claimed, Mrs. M. P. Brookins of Anaheim today had filed suit in the superior court here for separate maintenance from G. E. Brookins, proprietor of an Anaheim printing shop and former publisher of the Brea Progress, a weekly newspaper.

In her complaint, which charged cruelty, Mrs. Brookins pictured the "eternal triangle" as being responsible for what she termed the wrecking of her home. She named Mrs. Addie Wiley, of Pomona, wife of a former employee of her husband, as the "other woman" in the case.

Brookins, who has been conducting a printing shop at 243 North Los Angeles street, Anaheim, since retiring from the newspaper business recently, was accused by his wife of devoting all his evenings to Mrs. Wiley, to the neglect of his wife and two young children. The Brookins have a daughter, aged 5, and a baby son, aged 3½ months.

Since November 21, when the "other woman" entered their life, according to the wife, Brookins has been with Mrs. Wiley almost every evening, with the exception of one week at New Year's, she averred, when he agreed and did "give up" Mrs. Wiley for a week, the complainant recited.

This resolution, she said, was soon broken and her husband told her, Mrs. Brookins alleged, that he not only would refuse to give up Mrs. Wiley but that he would convert his property into cash and leave his home with Mrs. Wiley.

Mrs. Brookins asked the court for a restraining order to prevent such a move, and demanded $150 per month alimony, besides a court order setting aside community property for her.

Attorneys Ames and McFadden, Anaheim, represent Mrs. Brookins in the court proceedings.

WIDOW LOSES SUIT FOR DEATH DAMAGE

E. L. Beckwith of Downey, today had emerged winner in the $16,000 damage suit filed against him by Mrs. Emma Blackford of Corona, a jury in Superior Judge R. Y. Williams' court here having sustained Beckwith's defense and awarded him costs of suit.

Mrs. Blackford, a former resident of Fullerton, sued on account of the death of her husband, Lewis Blackford, following a collision between Blackford's motorcycle and Beckwith's auto in Santa Ana canyon nearly a year ago.

Beckwith disclaimed responsibility for the accident. The trial was completed late yesterday, the jury deliberating an hour and a half before returning its verdict in Beckwith's favor.

Need New Treaties To "Select" Aliens

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Establishment of a government inspection service in foreign countries for the selecting those of prospective immigrants to the United States would be difficult without new treaty agreements, Secretary Hughes informed Representative Baker, Dem., California.

The secretary's communication was in reply to Baker's questions concerning such proposals before the immigration committee of which he is a member. Hughes added, however, he did not wish to express an opinion as to any bill along this line without having the opportunity to give it full consideration.

French styles appear in Constantinople almost as soon as they do in Paris.

Advertising Suit Decision Pending

A ruling in the case of the Santa Ana Printing and Publishing company, former publisher of the defunct Santa Ana News, was under advisement today in Justice J. B. Cox's court, where trial of the suit was held late yesterday.

The printing company sued the defendant for $80 alleging that sum to be due on a contract for eighty inches of advertising space in the last county fair edition of the News.

Kinslow objected to payment of the claim on the ground that the advertising contract had not been carried out, and also because, he said, the edition and his advertising in it had been misrepresented to him.

Attorney Fred Forgy appeared as counsel for the plaintiff, Attorney Charles Swanner representing the defendant.

EXPECT 150 AT COUNTY SCOUT BODY MEET

Preparations were being made for the presence of 150 men and women at the annual banquet and meeting of the Orange county council, Boy Scouts of America, to be held at the Masonic temple, Fullerton, today at 6:30 p. m., Roland Dye, county Scout executive, said.

Stating that the meeting is open to all men and women interested in Boy Scout activities, Dye said that Rex B. Goodcell, federal internal revenue collector for the Los Angeles district and former judge of the superior court of San Bernardino county, would have a real message for his auditors.

Goodcell's interest in Boy work was heightened during his service on the bench in San Bernardino county, where he had opportunity to get close to problems of boys.

Annual reports to be made by Dye and by G. W. Finch, president, will reveal activities of the organization for the past year. Particular interest will center in these reports, it was expected, for they will show progress of the Scouts in Orange county during the twelve months the reports will cover.

To Seek Changes In Organic Law

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Jan. 17.—Porto Rico is sending to Washington today a commission of 11 members to seek at the hands of congress further modifications of its organic law. Gov. Horace M. Towner, appointed by President Harding, is an ex-officio member of the commission, which will also work for an elective governor.

There have been only slight changes in the organic law since March, 1917, when the Jones bill was passed granting American citizenship to all Porto-Ricans resident in the island except those who chose to reject it.

The commission is composed of the president on the insular senate, Antonio R. Barcelon, four senators, Speaker of the House Miguel Guerra Mondragon and four delegates. Most of the members of the commission are Unionists, which party has a large majority in both houses, but representatives of the Socialist and Republican parties are also included.

Thief Gasses Hens To Prevent Noise

SAN JOSE, Jan. 17.—The theft of 133 barred Plymouth rocks, valued at more than $1000, from the pens of Charles H. Voddem, Los Gatos chicken fancier, is being investigated by Sheriff George W. Lyle. Voddem was in San Francisco when the fowls disappeared. Evidence indicates the ground was carefully studied before the raid was made; that a truck was backed up to an isolated portion of the farm; the heavy steel wire enclosure cut; the fowls silenced with gas and loaded into a truck. Sheriff Lyle is working on clues which it is hoped will solve a number of chicken thefts which have occurred in this vicinity recently.

Cause of Rheumatism At Last Discovered

New Oil From Germany Stops Pain Instantly In Many Cases

For years the cause of rheumatism has been laid to a dozen different reasons. Learned doctors even disagreed among themselves. Only lately has it been definitely demonstrated that the real cause of many cases of rheumatism is the absorption by the body of poisons from some intestinal infection.

These poisons are absorbed by the blood and travel to the joints and muscles, where they quickly set up inflammation and cause agonizing pain. And now the same German chemistry that created those well-known pain-killers, Aspirin for headaches and Novocain for painless dentistry, has come forward with a new discovery for rheumatic pain—stop the pain at once in many cases. This oil is so penetrating that it disappears a few seconds after it is rubbed on the skin.

So astonishing have been the results from its use in Europe that the American distributors have authorized local druggists to give this oil to rheumatic sufferers in this city with a positive written guarantee. Signed by themselves, to return the full purchase price of the first bottle if you do not get immediate relief from rheumatic pain. If you are a sufferer from rheumatic pain, no matter how long standing, you owe it to yourself to try this wonderful new discovery on this no-risk offer and see how quickly the pains disappear. It is called Buhler Oil and it is sold by all good druggists such as C. S. Kelley, Fred J. Parsons, C. A. Watkins, White Cross Drug Co., Wingood Drug Co.—Adv.

Betrothals Weddings Receptions*Dinner and Mah Jongg Are Results of Big Football Game

At the time of the big U. S. C. University of California football game last fall, many and various bets were registered, lost and won, but none yielded a happier time than last night's dinner party at the Edward Hummel home, 315 South Garvey, when Mr. and Mrs. Hummel, loyal U. S. C. folk, entertained a little group of Santa Ana Lions whose alma mater was California, in payment of a bet on the results of the game.

At 7 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Hummel presided over a charmingly appointed table where guests found their places by means of rose-colored cards, the product of Mrs. Hummel's skillful brush. Cards, filled with neat cups and centerpieces of sweet peas all harmonized with the exquisite dinner service which had been decorated by the mother of the hostess, Mrs. Landers of Los Angeles, from whom she evidently inherits her artistic tastes and abilities.

A delectable chicken dinner was served and at its conclusion, the diners gathered around mah jongg tables for a merry evening, during which Dr. Elliott Rowland proved the most proficient player.

Enjoying the occasion with Mr. and Mrs. Hummel were Dr. and Mrs. Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wahlberg and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shauer.

W. C. T. U.

The Orange County W. C. T. U. executive meeting was held Tuesday in Orange at the Baptist church, opening at 10 o'clock with Mrs. Estelle Harper of Garden Grove presiding. Mrs. Parks of Orange led the devotion.

There were over fifty women present from the different units of the county, and splendid talks and reports given by the local presidents and superintendents showed that many unions were doing Americanization work.

Mrs. R. W. Jones of El Modena conducted an exercise on Sabbath observance. Luncheon was served in the dining room of the church. In the afternoon the program was in charge of the members who belong to the state executive board. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Fannie Lash.

The speakers for the afternoon were Mrs. W. B. Harper, county president; Mrs. Lea Warren, assistant state recording secretary; Mrs. J. E. Kellogg, county treasurer; and Mrs. Elizabeth Mills, state organizer. Mrs. Harrison of Olive sang "It Is in the Constitution to Stay." Mrs. Martin of Orange favored with a violin solo, accompanied by Mrs. Nuffer.

Mrs. Maud Winbiger, president of the Mothers and Daughters of the crusade, spoke on that organization, and sang a song, the words of which were written by Stella E. Lawrence. Mrs. J. H. Scott, state superintendent of women in industry, gave a very interesting talk on that subject, illustrating her talk with maps. Mrs. J. W. Anderson, state superintendent of legislation, gave a practical talk containing valuable information.

The board went on record as endorsing the "Child Welfare" and educational bills. Miss Emily Cox, state superintendent of health, gave a splendid talk. Mrs. Sutliff of Santa Clara county was present and spoke briefly.

The El Modena union extended an invitation for the convention in April, which was accepted.

SECTION MEETINGS
Section meetings of the W. C. T. U. will be held Tuesday afternoon, January 22 at 2 o'clock when members of the north section will be entertained at the home of Mrs. G. W. Kettle, 626 Riverline street and of the south section at the home of Mrs. Carnat, 605 Orange avenue.

News Notes of Interest To Clubwomen*Reception Is Planned For Missionaries To the Orient

At the home of Mrs. C. A. Campbell, 211 South Ross street, scores of interested friends will gather tomorrow afternoon to offer greetings and loving appreciation to the Rev. and Mrs. John Melkie soon to complete a year's furlough in this country and return to their life work in the mission field of the Orient.

As a tribute to them, Mrs. Campbell and her daughter, Miss Agnes Campbell, have extended a cordial invitation to all interested in mission work and workers to call at their hospitable home and meet and greet the veteran workers in the field who have reserved passage on a steamer leaving San Francisco, February 15. The reception hours are from 3 to 5 o'clock.

The Rev. Mr. Melkie when a youth of twenty-two, left for the Orient as a member of the famous Hudson Taylor group which, forty-five years ago established the China Inland mission. At that time, so dangerous were conditions in China that those first intrepid workers were compelled to wear queues and adopt the native style of dress that they might go with a trifle more safety.

The mission is inter-denominational and so much a part of the lives of the Melkies, that though they have reached the age of retirement, they are willing and eager to return and take up the duties of missionaries again.

It is anticipated that many will call tomorrow afternoon to wish them God-speed.

HOT FIGHT SPLITS JAPAN POLITICIANS

(By United Press Leased Wire)
TOKIO, Japan, Jan. 17.—The political situation in the Japanese empire was growing more acute today.

The powerful Seiyukai party, for years one of the two leading political parties in the government, faced a complete split. One wing, under former Premier Takahashi is opposing the Kiyouwa ministry. A second faction led by former Premier Yamamoto is spiritedly defending the government of Premier Kiyouwa.

In the meantime the clamor against the growth of the peerage, which yesterday led to announcement by former Premier Takahashi that he would renounce his title of viscount and become a commoner, is growing.

The Meat-Eating Plant

By Alice Fessenden Peterson

There are weird productions among the jungle plant-wonders, some of which uncannily suggest animal life in their strange habits. One of these is a meat-eating shrub whose movements may be plainly seen and which almost seems to bridge the line between animal and vegetable life. There are plant fly-traps in the temperate zone, the pitcher-plant of the woods and others of that family, but none quite like that ravenous shrub that lives in the deepest recesses of the tropical jungle under the shadow of the tree-trunk's feathery topknot and the graceful fans of the waving palms.

The broad hairy leaves of this animal-plant are forever busy at their murderous work of capturing unwary eatable victims. And in the teeming insect life of the forest, victims are never lacking. About four feet in height at its maturity this strange plant has stiff hairs on the surface of its large leaves having a poisonous, nettle-like quality used as a paralyzing medium.

All through the twenty-four hours of the day the grim game goes on with intervals of inaction in the individual leaves while the plant digests. And it is a curious process, with the leaves and the plant itself enacting a tragedy silently enacted like thousands of others to which the jungle is constantly a witness.

Butterfly's Fate.
To see the plant one would never imagine its sinister nature as it stands, a single specimen always, with its wide leaves offering a resting place to insect passers-by.

But watch it for a few minutes. A gleaming blue butterfly flutters down the green aisles of the forest. Its wings beating happily in the hot, moist air, reflect the hues of the unseen blue sky above the foliage masses. A delicious perfume from a clump of flowering orchids attracts the dainty traveler and it stops to sip of the alluring sweets.

A few minutes later it resumes its leisurely flight, coming down a little to dance here and there nearer the ground as objects attract it, and presently it alights for a moment's rest on the edge of one of the leaves of the shrub. It would seem as though invisible eyes in the plant-structure were watching craftily until the victim was within reach for there is a quick snap, and instantly before the unfortunate butterfly has time to spring away the leaf has shut up with a soft little click and the delicate blue wings are crushed out of sight.

What goes on after this movement can only be guessed. Nature has within reach for there is a little tragedy inside the green trap. For two hours the devouring process goes on. Then the leaf begins slowly to unfold. Tiny fragments of glistening blue, all that are left of the beautiful wings, drop away bit by bit, but of the soft pump body there is no remnant. It has been absorbed by the mysterious suction of the leaves which found in the juices and tissues of the insect the food that is apparently necessary to the growth of the plant.

By the third hour the leaf has fully opened again and the trap is set once more. No trace of the meal remains. The crumbs have all been swept from the table by the gentle breeze.

From the foliage above a big green caterpillar drops full upon a leaf. He is snapped up eagerly and from his fleshy body no rejected portion appears when the trap opens again. He was meat all through and he yielded up his spark of life passively to the greater force that absorbed him.

Spider Victims.
The spider family contributes victim after victim to the insatiable maw of this plant ogre, for the unfortunate when they blunder on to the surface of the leaves seem to become paralyzed by the poison which the hairs contain. Once within the danger zone they never escape nor do beetles or flies, and when the feast is over and the leaf opens to throw out horny legs or meatless wings or scaly armor they seem to have been subjected to a grinding pressure, breaking them up into small bits that may be easily blown away so that nothing will remain to clog the effectiveness of the trap.

Sometimes the spring misses fire when a larger insect or crawler comes within reach of its action and the prey is partially caught but the result is none the less fatal, for whatever portion of the body is held, if it contains any of the deadly poison, the crushing process is applied and the trap is the victor. Small lizards are sometimes ensnared in this way. Even though the object of attack may wholly escape by superior swiftness of motion it takes with it a remainder of the plant's venom, for the stinging hairs are ever active to inflict their poison which cripples even if it does not kill.

The enormous amount of food consumed in the course of a day by this hydra-headed vegetable can only be estimated by considering the tremendous variety of insect life in the tropical jungle.

For apparently all insects, whether flying or crawling, having weight and the power to spring the trap, are acceptable as food material, even those that throw out offensive odors in their own defense.

Of this latter class are the huge black night-beetles that swarm in the tropics, some of which develop wings for a clumsy flight. All are meat to the trap-plant and the foul odors are a vain effort when the squeezing process is set at work. Struggles are of no avail once the relentless grip is fastened upon the hapless creature, and it suffers its fate that its enemy may live.

Parent-Teachers

FRANKLIN

An attendance of over fifty greeted the program prepared for the Franklin P. T. A. by members of Miss Sarah McNaughty's class at the recent meeting in the school kindergarten.

"The Butterfly drill" and "Spring Song" were among the appreciated numbers by the children. Mrs. Nat Neff added to the pleasure by singing one of Carrie Jacobs Bond's lovely songs. Mrs. Mary Koons gave an interesting account of the district meeting at Huntington Beach and Mrs. J. H. Stewart talked on the life of Benjamin Franklin whose birthday the meeting was to commemorate. Many of the great man's sayings were recounted also.

During the social hour, the hostesses, Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Cohen, served dainty refreshments. The attendance prize was awarded Miss McNaughty's room.

TUSTIN UNION HIGH
William J. Sutherland, a member of the teaching staff of Orange High school and formerly a teacher in the Chinese Imperial school, will talk on China, her people and customs at Tustin Union High school tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock.

The evening which promises to be highly interesting, is being sponsored by the Tustin High school P. T. A. and no admission will be asked. A general invitation is issued to all who are interested in the topic to come and hear an eloquent and interesting speaker.

JULIA LATHROP
Opening with the usual routine of prayer, flag salute and song, the Julia C. Lathrop P. T. A. held a most interesting session earlier in the week when a parliamentary drill conducted by Mrs. Horton was among the items of interest.

The flourishing condition of this newest of the city associations was attested by its membership list which has reached 350 according to the report of the membership committee.

After an explanation of the honor system ruling in junior high schools by Miss Hazel Bemis, the association endorsed several movements, among them the stand of the girls of the graduating class in desiring uniform frocks for graduation exercises, also the student fee of seventy-five cents each semester.

A small sum was voted to help maintain the Artesia school lunches provided the pupils are making payment for their lunches. This provision is to insure against danger of pauperizing the Mexican children.

Mrs. J. Edmund Snow, speaker for the afternoon, told the origin, founding and early history of the C. of M. and P. T. A. and its final recognition as a factor in education throughout the nation.

SENATORS PLAN NEW ATTACKS ON EX-SECY.

(By United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Another attack on former Secretary of the Interior Fall will be made before the senate by Senator Hatlin, Democrat, of Alabama, within a day or two.

Heflin will follow up the assault begun yesterday by Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, who charged Fall with corruption in leasing the Teapot Dome Naval oil reserve to Sinclair interests. Heflin says he has material for a "series of speeches" regarding Fall and the naval oil leases.

Caraway also expects to follow up his first criticism of Fall with further attacks. His speech yesterday was one of the bitterest ever heard in the senate. He compared Fall with Benedict Arnold and the leasing of Teapot Dome to Arnold's attempted turning over of West Point to the British.

He criticized Attorney General Daugherty, who, he said, ought to have had Fall indicted.

FALL DECLINES TO ANSWER CUESER

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 17.—Former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall will probably not reply to the charges made against him in the senate yesterday by Senator Caraway of Arkansas.

Although the former secretary was confined to his room at the Roosevelt hotel here on orders of his physician, his wife said there was nothing strange about being attacked by Senator Caraway and there would likely be no answer to the accusations.

"Senator Fall is suffering from bronchial trouble," Mrs. Fall said. "He is not to be interviewed."

"I am sure he has no statement to make in regard to the charges by Senator Caraway."

Let every member of the brotherhood plan to be present and bring your son with you.

Order of De Molay Is To Sponsor a Dance At Masonic Temple

The Masonic ballroom will be given over to youth Saturday night when the young men of the Order of De Molay will act as hosts at a delightfully planned dancing party, the first of a series of monthly affairs.

Schroeder's six piece orchestra has been secured for the event and the promise of excellent music has been made by the host committee, George Walker, chairman, Paul Brown, Valmer Clark and Lloyd Redmond.

Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Cogan have been selected as chaperons for the evening. Mr. Cogan is worthy patron of the Santa Ana chapter, Order of Eastern Star, and is equally prominent in masonry, while Mrs. Cogan is also an active Star.

All Master Masons and their families will be given a cordial welcome at the dance and the De Molay members anticipate an excellent crowd. The dances are being planned as a means of adding to their exchequer which was sadly depleted by the recent purchase of robes and regalia for the ceremonial meetings of the chapter.

Business Women's Club

Dispensing with their usual Monday luncheon at St. Ann's Inn, members of the Business and Professional Women's club will gather at the Inn Monday night, January 21 for a 7 o'clock dinner and social evening with the January committee headed by Dr. Mary Wright in charge.

Among interesting things which the program will offer will be songs by Hazel Landers Hummel, violin numbers by Ollime Enlow Matthews and solo dances by Little Miss Armine Crawford, daughter of one of the club members, Mrs. Armine Crawford.

Members are asked to make reservations for themselves and their friends through the president, Miss Doris Robbins of the Home Mutual Building and Loan ass'n or the secretary, Mrs. Helen Stedman at the Santa Ana Book store not later than Saturday noon.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work. He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allenhu, to others who took it, with what might be called marvellous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed C. S. Kelley Drug Co. to dispense Allenhu with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment.

ORANGE COUNTY COOLIDGE CLUB PLANS TOLD

Organization of a county Coolidge-for-President club and election of six delegates from this county to a conference at Riverside Saturday afternoon, is the purpose of a conference of Coolidge club members to be held at the city hall at Orange tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. J. S. Smart, president of the Santa Ana Coolidge club, announced today.

"While the conference at Orange is called for the clubs, all Coolidge supporters will be welcome at the meeting," Smart said.

A county-wide club is to be organized. The conference at Riverside will be held at the Glenwood Mission Inn at 1:30 p. m., and will consist of delegates from clubs in the counties included in the 11th congressional district, consisting of Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino, Inyo, Mono, Imperial and San Diego.

"The Riverside conference is an important one, for it is probable candidates from this district to the national Republican convention will be suggested. John D. Spreckels, San Diego; C. C. Chapman, Fullerton, and Frank Miller, Riverside, have been mentioned as possible candidates."

Apportionment of delegates to the conference Saturday is as follows: San Diego county, 10; Orange, 6; San Bernardino, 6; Riverside, 5, and Imperial, 3. Inyo and Mono counties apparently have been overlooked in the apportionment, but it is expected they will have delegates present.

STAR HAS EYE TROUBLE
Report from the east is that "Pie" Traynor, star third-sacker of the Pittsburgh club, and generally regarded as the best young ball player in the National league, is having trouble with his eyes. Traynor was taking a college business course, starting his studies immediately after the close of the playing season. While the trouble is not regarded as serious, it is said a prominent specialist has advised against his placing any unnecessary strain on the eyes for this winter at least.

COBB STRONG FOR MANUSCH
Ty Cobb regards Outfielder Manusch as the best prospect that has broken into the majors in years. He looks for him to be one of the biggest stars in the game inside of three years. "Manusch has wonderful natural ability," said Cobb. "He needs only to learn how to make use of it to be one of the stars of the game. He's a great batsman right now and is sure to improve. For a big fellow he is very fast. He still has considerable to learn about fielding but is picking it up in fine style."

Smoker's Teeth Bleached White New Safe Way

No need for dull, yellow, tobacco-stained teeth now. For a new safe treatment—Bleachodent Combination—bleaches away stains, and makes teeth flashing white—often in just three minutes! Treatment consists of a marvelous liquid, which cures and softens the stains—and a new kind of paste which gently removes the stain and restores the natural whiteness of the teeth. Safe and harmless, as its mild ingredients are especially combined to act only on surface stains—not on the enamel itself. Only a safe mild preparation like Bleachodent Combination should be used on children's teeth which are naturally soft and sensitive, and which are especially subject to staining and decay. Fine for the gums. Get Bleachodent Combination today for few cents at all good dealers such as White Cross Drug Co., C. S. Kelley, Santa Ana Drug Store, Parsons Drug Store, Haddon-Jean Drug Co., Givens & Cannon Pharmacy.

CHORAL UNION SUCCESS FOR GIVING ENJOYMENT IS CITED AS ROBIN HOOD DATE NEARS

See the performance of "Robin Hood" which the Orange County Choral union will give at the Yost theater here the nights of next Tuesday and Wednesday are assured of one of the most enjoyable evenings within memory," declared Ellis Rhodes, director of the popular organization of singers.

"The Choral union, with the other operas it has produced in the past, including 'The Pirates of Penzance,' 'The Mikado,' 'The Bohemian Girl,' and others, has supplied 'heaping measure' of worth-while entertainment."

"In 'Robin Hood,' however, we have an opera that combines in a remarkable manner the quality of supplying delightful fun while, at the same time, it is peculiarly rich in music of the best of its kind."

"Robin Hood" is perhaps one of the happiest achievements of men working in that highly sophisticated art form, opera of the lighter variety. It is something that is not to be taken too seriously, and yet strangely enough the writing of it and the staging of it are both matters of the utmost seriousness.

Miss Kathleen Owens of this city as Annabelle in Orange County Choral union's production of "Robin Hood." Miss Owens alternates with Mrs. J. M. Hitchcock of Anaheim in the part. Mrs. Hitchcock will sing the part at the Yost theater here Tuesday night and Miss Owens will sing it Wednesday night.

Cards Draw Color Line for Ring Go

BERKELEY, Cal., Jan. 17.—There will be no boxing matches between the University of California and Stanford; not this year or until authorities of the two institutions come to some sort of mutual agreement as to what conditions are to govern the contests.

Last year the two colleges split when Stanford authorities called off a scheduled match because they understood California was to place a colored boxer in the ring. Rather than forfeit the bout it was postponed indefinitely.

Though several conferences have been held since that time an agreement has never been reached.

Legal Notice

NOTICE INVITING BIDS.

Pursuant to a Resolution of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Orange, State of California, adopted January 2, 1924 directing this notice is hereby given that the said Board will receive, at its Chambers, in the Court House, in Santa Ana, California, at or before the hour of eleven o'clock A. M., on January 29, 1924, sealed bids or proposals for the erection of a County Jail, heating and ventilating of same, electric wiring of same, plumbing of same, and jail equipment for same.

Bids are to be submitted as follows: Bids on the general contract, bids on the heating and ventilating, bids on the electric wiring, bids on the plumbing and bids on the jail equipment. The bids must be addressed to the Board of Supervisors, Orange County, California, the work to be done in accordance with the plans and specifications adopted by the Board of Supervisors on file in the office of said Board in the Court House, in the City of Santa Ana, each bidder must submit with his proposal a satisfactory check, certified by a responsible bank, and payable to the order of the County of Orange, or a bidder's bond for an amount not less than five per cent. (5%) of the aggregate sum of the bid, as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the proposed contract if the same is awarded to him, and in the event of failure to enter into said contract, the bidder's check or bond shall become the property of the County.

The amount of the bond to be given to secure the faithful performance of the contract for said work shall be twenty-five per cent. (25%) of the contract price thereof, and an additional bond in an amount to equal to fifty per cent. (50%) of the contract price for said work shall be given to secure the payment of claims for any materials or supplies furnished for the performance of the work contracted to be done by the contractor, or any work or labor of any kind thereon, and also will be required to furnish a certificate that he carries compensation insurance covering employees upon the work to be done under the contract which may be entered into between him and the said County, for the building of the said County Jail, for the County of Orange. Copies of the plans and specifications will be furnished intending bidders upon application to Frank Reicher, County Clerk, in Santa Ana, California. A deposit of $25.00 will be required for copies of the plans and specifications under the general contract and under the jail equipment; a deposit of $15.00 will be required for specifications under the heating and ventilating and electric wiring contracts; the sums deposited will be refunded when the plans and specifications are returned to the Architect at the time indicated, and in good condition. The Board of Supervisors reserves the right to reject any and all bids. By order of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Orange, State of California.

Dated this 2nd day of January, 1924. J. M. BACKS, County Clerk and ex-Officio Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, of Orange County.

SEEK NEGROES FOR ATTACK ON WOMAN

(By United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—Scores of detectives, police were searching the city today for two negroes alleged to have kidnapped, attacked and otherwise mistreated Mrs. Stella Kraus, pretty 26-year old Hollywood divorcee.

The young woman was missing from Tuesday morning until late last night when she staggered into her home, half unconscious. She told a sobbing story of having been seized by two negroes and driven to a lonely cabin somewhere in the foothills.

There, Mrs. Kraus said, the colored men forced her to drink liquor and then attacked her. Last night they brought her back to the city and ejected her from the car.

Physicians who examined the young woman substantiated her story of rough treatment. Her body was badly bruised, they said.

EMBEZZLER RETURNED.
DES MOINES, Jan. 17.—Russell J. Cockburn, charged with defrauding the city of $86,000, by manipulation of payrolls while a clerk in the street department, has been brought back from a veteran's hospital in St. Louis. For weeks he delayed extradition on the claim that he was too ill to be moved. He was carried from the train and taken to a hospital.

Indigestion May Lead to Appendicitis

Repeated attacks of indigestion often lead to serious inflammation of the stomach and intestinal tract. This inflammation may finally extend to the appendix, which usually becomes infected through the presence of foul, irritating matter in the bowels.

It doesn't pay to ignore even the most simple warnings of digestive trouble. Neglect is responsible for much misery. Uneasiness at the pit of the stomach, sour taste in the mouth, excessive gas, heart burn, nausea, vomiting, bitter risings, constipation, biliousness, dizzy spells and palpitation of the heart after eating are some of the most common symptoms of poor digestion.

If you are subject to any form of stomach distress, don't fail to try a bottle of Smith Bros. M. A. C., the guaranteed stomach treatment. This wonderful medicine usually gives prompt relief from all discomfort. In fact, it is sold on a positive guarantee of money back if the first bottle fails to do so. A large bottle costs but $1.25. C. S. Kelley Drug Store will supply you. (Mail orders accepted.)

1000 HERE FOR BIG MEET OF BIBLE FOLK

Bringing more than 1000 visitors to Santa Ana, the fifth quarterly convention of the Federated Men's Bible classes of Southern California was called to order this afternoon at the First Christian church, convention headquarters.

Active workers in classes from virtually every city of importance in the Southland began arriving in the city early today prepared to take part in the afternoon services at the church, where officers were to be nominated, and to gather at the Santa Ana high school auditorium tonight, where the famed hero of the Spanish-American war, Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson, will deliver an address on the narcotic evil.

The afternoon gathering, convening at 2 o'clock, was to be devoted to a business meeting, the nomination of officers and to ten-minute talks on "Class Achievements," by delegates from the Pomona, Glendale, Hollywood, Riverside and Wilshire Boulevard classes.

To Banquet at Churches.
Five Santa Ana churches were to be utilized at 6 o'clock in the evening for a banquet to the visitors after which the delegates will go to the auditorium.

The Santa Ana high school band will give a concert at the corner of Sixth street and Broadway at 6 o'clock and also in front of the administration building at the high school at 7:30 o'clock.

Flood lights, installed by the Robertson Electric company, will be thrown on the musicians for the earlier concert. A large spotlight, installed by the Orange County Legion works, will play on the auditorium so that the visitors will have no difficulty in locating the building.

City and county officials have made preparations to place officers at downtown corners to avert traffic.

Plan Community Singing.
Tonight's gathering will be opened at 7:40 o'clock with an invocation by the Rev. Paul Wright, formerly of this city, now of Ontario. Community singing, led by Leon Eckles of Santa Ana, will follow.

The Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church of Santa Ana, will make the address of welcome and the Rev. Fred S. Carter, of Los Angeles, will respond. L. O. Culp of Fullerton is scheduled to make a brief address on the subject, "How to Get the Man," after which male quartettes from the Santa Ana, Los Angeles, First Christian, Ontario and Fullerton classes will compete for honors. Members of the local quartette are Leon Eckles, Walter Vieira, Henry Thompson and Orla Householder. Captain Hobson's address will conclude the convention.

All men of the city are welcome to attend the evening session, according to W. B. Martin of Santa Ana, federation president.

ZERO WEATHER FANS. HERE'S BIG CHANCE!

Is there anyone in Santa Ana or Orange county who is homesick for the East with its wintry winds and zero weather? If such person exists in the county and would like to trade some property here for a farm back in Michigan, let them take part in the afternoon services at the church, where officers were to be nominated, and to gather at the Santa Ana high school auditorium tonight, where the famed hero of the Spanish-American war, Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson, will deliver an address on the narcotic evil.

"I have a letter from a man back in that state who says that he has a farm of 185 acres and a gravel pit that he will trade for a small ranch in Orange county," Stanley continued. "He is so anxious to make the trade and move to this district that he even offers to accept a mortgage on the farm in Michigan."

"The owner of the property in Michigan said that it required two trips to Orange county to convince him and his wife that this is the ideal spot for a home. He said that he had heard of a few instances where California residents were anxious to return to the East and thought it barely possible that through the farm bureau he could get in touch with such a party."

"If there is anyone who desires to make such a trade I would be glad to supply him with more information regarding the farm and its location. Personally, I don't think that such person will be found, at least, not in this county."

WOMAN BADLY BURNED.
MILWAUKEE, Jan. 17.—Mrs. Avis Cook, 25 years of age, wife of a Walworth farmer, was seriously burned about the back when her clothes were ignited by a stove in the house. Mrs. Cook saved her life by running from the house and leaping into the snow. She is in a hospital.

uled to make a brief address on the subject, "How to Get the Man," after which male quartettes from the Santa Ana, Los Angeles, First Christian, Ontario and Fullerton classes will compete for honors. Members of the local quartette are Leon Eckles, Walter Vieira, Henry Thompson and Orla Householder. Captain Hobson's address will conclude the convention.

All men of the city are welcome to attend the evening session, according to W. B. Martin of Santa Ana, federation president.

VESSEL THREATENED BY FIRE NOW SAFE

(By United Press Leased Wire)
PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 17.—The steamer Silverado, which sent out S. A. S. calls for help early this morning when a fire broke out in her hold, reported by wireless to the Federal Tele. Co. here that the fire was under control at day light.

The vessel arrived at the mouth of the Columbia river at 8 a. m., the tug Swallow from Astoria which went out to the relief of the vessel, was standing by. The Silverado was enroute to Seattle from San Francisco, but will check over her damage at Astoria, before proceeding, according to the message.

"FOR YOUR TOES' WOES"

The factory worker speaks:

"I LEARNED long ago that old run-over dress shoes or snappy style shoes worn on the job mean lowered earnings—footsores nights—no fun in the evening."

"So I wear a shoe that is pliable yet holds the foot snugly balanced to carry my weight easily and in comfort. I wear good looking comfort shoes—Ye Olde Tyme Comfort Shoes."

There is one chief reason for their comfort—they are made over scientifically designed lasts and from correct fitting patterns by men who have specialized for the last twenty years in making comfort shoes for women. Comfort is built into this shoe.

TO SET OPENING OF NEW LATHROP SCHOOL

The definite date for the opening of the new Julia C. Lathrop junior high school on South Main street will be determined at a meeting tomorrow of the Santa Ana board of education. F. L. Andrews, secretary of the board, said that Monday, January 21 no doubt would be set as opening day.

The school building virtually was completed a week ago but scaffolding and other material from the building were only recently removed.

Plan Extension of Permits to Graze

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—The extension of permit periods for grazing in the national forests to ten years instead of one, is planned in the revised system of regulations that goes into effect with the opening of the grazing season for 1924, according to R. R. Hill, district forest inspector and member of District Forester Redington's staff.

Supervisors, inspectors and other forestry men have held a series of conferences to discuss a revision of the old grazing rules and the establishment of a new system calculated to stabilize the industry in Southern California. A higher fee for grazing that will make an increase of approximately 75 per cent has also been decided upon by the board.

PLAN FOR SALE OF LOCAL OIL FIRM STOCK

Incorporating under the name of the Santa-New Mex Drilling company, a syndicate of Santa Ana and Huntington Beach men and women which acquired leases to a considerable acreage of prospective oil land in the San Juan basin, New Mexico, today was making preparations for promoting the sale of stock for putting down two test wells.

The syndicate originally intended to keep the organization a closed corporation, but at a meeting of members here last night decision was made to offer a block of stock for sale in the near future, with stock purchasers virtually on the same terms with syndicate members.

With several thousand acres under lease that members believe would be worth several million dollars if oil is developed, the company is organized for only $75,000, the small capitalization being made so that the syndicate members and a few of their friends might reap the full financial benefit, members declared.

The property is in purely wildcat territory, and it was admitted at the meeting last night that the proposition was a gamble, but with big stakes a possible reward. The field was but recently discovered and a number of good wells have been discovered in the basin, according to reports from Farmington, the city nearest the field.

Directors named in the incorporation papers are Dr. D. A. Harwood, W. S. Tubach and Charles Wilson.

May Nab Anaheim Check Case Man

Santa Ana authorities, co-operating with Anaheim police, today were endeavoring to apprehend a check forger, who, operating under the name of H. E. Hunt, is alleged to have cashed checks, totalling $33, purported to have been signed by F. L. Benson, Katella road, Anaheim.

The checks, according to Mrs. Benson, were written on the Anaheim National bank, and were cashed by Hunt at the Wardrobe and Penney stores at Anaheim.

IMPORTANCE OF THRIFT CITED BY 'Y' MAN

Thrift is an important factor pointing toward the attainment of success and happiness, according to bankers, church workers, Y. M. C. A. leaders, school executives and others who had a prominent part here today in the opening of National Thrift week, scheduled to close January 23.

"There are ten vital points concerning thrift that every man, woman and child should memorize," said R. C. Smedley, general secretary of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. Here is the ten-point success creed:

"Work and earn."
"Make a budget."
"Record expenditures."
"Have a bank account."
"Carry life insurance."
"Own your own home."
"Make a will."
"Invest in safe securities."
"Pay bills promptly."
"Share with others."

Widely Endorsed
"This campaign on behalf of a more thrifty nation is not only fostered by the Y. M. C. A., but is endorsed by 47 of the leading civic, industrial, educational and religious organizations of the country."

"National Thrift week has a background of deep significance. It always begins January 17—the birthday of our great apostle of thrift, Benjamin Franklin. Each day that follows is devoted to some specific thrifty enterprise."

"It is significant that the bank deposits in our American cities always show a marked increase immediately after National Thrift week. Wendell J. Curtis, cashier of the Mechanics' bank of Rochester, N. Y., reports that the deposits in that bank increased 40 per cent one week after last year's thrift campaign."

Smedley gave the following reasons why a budget system should be adopted by all who are interested in thrift:

Why Budgets Win
It helps to save more.
Helps to eliminate waste.
Makes it possible to give more.
Is using good business judgment.

Helps one to plan spending.
Helps one to spend more wisely.

Helps one to know how much one's taxes should be.
Helps one to know how much should be invested in life insurance.

Helps in the apportionment of large items of expense, that they may be more easily met.
Relieves one of constant worry in connection with financial matters.

"But above all," said Smedley, "Thrift week is united building for a bigger and better America. Every thrifty man and woman becomes a better citizen."

WOMEN DEMAND SQUARE DEAL FOR MABEL

(By United Press Leased Wire)
CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Chicago club women are on record for a square deal for Mabel Normand, movie actress, witness in a recent Los Angeles shooting. They have decided it was high time for women to "stick together." At a meeting of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs last night, Mrs. Frank Johnson, chairman of the organization's moving picture committee, started to read a resolution urging the affiliated clubs to ban Mabel's pictures.

Mrs. Sophia D. Cowles, president of the Women's Association of Commerce, interrupted her.
"It's perfectly absurd for Chicago club women who have their wits about them, to follow the lead of a few foolish women in a small town club who thought they were doing their duty when they adopted such a resolution," she said.

"But Miss Normand went to Courtland S. Dines' house," retorted Mrs. Johnson.
"Yes, and who invited her there? Dines did," replied Mrs. Cowles.

Miss Cowles said it was a farce for the club women to attempt to ruin Miss Normand, socially and financially, before getting at the bottom of the whole thing.

"It's a disgrace to women," she cried. "Men stick together and it's high time the women did, especially until they know the real facts in the case."

The question was put to a vote and a large majority voted to have the resolution tabled until Miss Normand's story is told in the courts.

AD CLUB MEET TO FEATURE FRANKLIN

Tributes to Benjamin Franklin will feature the program of the Santa Ana Advertising club at its meeting at St. Ann's Inn at 12:15 p. m. tomorrow, it was announced today by Stanley Reed, chairman of the program committee, who will preside tomorrow as chairman.

At the same time Reed stated that at the conclusion of the regular program, Richmond Pearson Hobson will address the club.

Members of other of the luncheon clubs of the city who may desire to hear the Spanish war hero, will be welcome, Reed stated.

F. Marshall Sanderson of Long Beach, the scheduled speaker, will speak on "The Art of Benjamin Franklin."

Will Kellogg, principal of the Francis E. Willard junior high school, will give a brief biography of Franklin.

Prof. Clanton will offer trombone solos; with Miss Ruth Armstrong as piano accompanist.

IN CHARGE OF SALES

Exhaustive research and experiment by able scientists are responsible for this finer fuel—Our laboratories are constantly studying and testing Union Non-Detonating Gasoline.

Three Improvements In Your Motor

that this simple plan will give you

WE are suggesting this simple plan to motorists. For we want you to know what Union Non-Detonating Gasoline will do in your car. We know what it has done in thousands of others, and thus know what it will do for you.

It will make the motor smoother just as though the motor itself had been improved. You'll note an absence of vibration.

New speed, new rush in the pick-up will be yours. An added power on hills that makes the difference in most cases between high and second gear work.

These are improvements that you'll feel at the wheel. They'll bring you greater pleasure from motoring.

And you can be sure of these results if you will use Union Non-Detonating Gasoline, unmixed with any other kind.

We don't ask you to accept our word. Test out our claims. See for yourself how this fine fuel can improve the operation of your car.

Scientific Reasons for This

These results are not haphazard. They are founded on scientific research.

For Union Gasoline is the product of 21 steps in distillation. Two steps are sufficient for certain so-called "gasolines."

But each of those 21 steps is required for Union Gasoline. They produce that perfect chain of boiling points which results in sustained explosions.

There are no sledge hammer blows from Union Gasoline to cause vibration.

The explosions are progressive and over-lapping. They provide a strong, steady impulse which permits of increased compression.

That increased compression is the secret of additional speed and pick-up and more power on hills.

You can bring these improvements to your car if you choose. You can enjoy this new motoring pleasure. Try our simple plan.

Use Union Gasoline unmixed with any other kind. Try it for a few days. Learn what this finer fuel will do for your motor.

COUNTY LIONS' CLUBS BOOST PLANS FOR NEW BODY

County Planning Commission Idea Is Approved By Officers' Council

WORK WITH L. A. CO.

Will Strive to Assist in Future Development of County

Appointment by the county of a planning commission to direct as far as possible future development in Orange county today had been given a further boost by the officers' council of the Lions clubs of Orange county, organized here this week at a meeting of representatives of the Lions clubs of Orange county.

According to Dr. Elliott H. Rowland, of this city, who was elected president of the council, the organization also favored co-operation by this county with the aims of the planning commission of Los Angeles in the matter of Orange county connecting up with roads the Los Angeles commission has planned for arteries into this county.

The endorsement was given the project of location of a road along the Southern Pacific tracks from Santa Ana to Los Angeles.

Stating that the council would be the body through which the various Lions clubs of the county would give expression to county projects, President Rowland anticipated considerable activity and co-operation by the clubs in county-wide projects.

Fifteen men were present at the council organization meeting, held at St. Ann's Inn, with J. A. George, Warren Hillyard, M. B. Lacy and Rowland representing the Santa Ana club. The council membership will contain three delegates from each club in the county.

Robert White, Anaheim, was elected vice president, and Frank Swan, Huntington Beach, secretary-treasurer.

The council will meet bi-monthly.

TO GIVE DANCES.

Miss Gracebell Taylor and E. G. Hudson have reopened Pressell Hall at Anaheim under the name of Taylor's Hall and will establish a dancing school, holding daily classes and giving private instruction by appointment. Weekly dances will be held each Thursday night, starting this evening.

Development of County Told in Brief

SAVE SHIPPING RATES.

The shipment of lemons to New York, via the Panama Canal route, which means a saving of 35 cents per hundred over the railroad freight rates, can now be offered to the growers in Orange county and Southern California, according to an announcement received recently by Harry Welch, manager of the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce from the California Fruit Growers' Exchange. Five cars were recently shipped in this way as an experiment and it was found that it was far more satisfactory than the railroad shipments. It was stated that the exchange was about to enter into a contract with the boat company for the regular shipment of lemons to the East.

NEW INDUSTRY PROJECT.

On the outcome of an effort by the Chamber of Commerce to obtain satisfactory freight rates probably rests a decision that may result in bringing to Fullerton a nationally known glass-making factory which will employ a large force of men and will provide a pay roll estimated at $20,000 a month. Fullerton is included in a list of three Southern California towns which are being considered as possible locations for the plant. Final decision as to which shall be chosen rests almost entirely on the outcome of the freight rate concession.

WILL ENLARGE LIBRARY.

Plans for the enlargement of the Yorba Linda Library and a review of the growth of this institution were announced at a recent Chamber of Commerce meeting in Yorba Linda. The Library Board has an option on the lots at the intersection of Front and Olinda streets, a triangular shaped tract of land lying south of the present library building, as the site for a proposed new building.

ORANGE SHIPPING FACTS.

A total shipment of 1328 cars of oranges of 400 boxes to the car was made by the Placencia Orange Growers' Association, during the calendar year of 1923, with a total return mailed to the growers of $1,245,951.56, according to the annual report of Abe Pritchard, secretary, made recently at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Association at the Fullerton high school auditorium. "In addition to this," Mr. Pritchard said, "refunds of $25,365.40 in cash and 5 cents per box as stock refund aside from the 8 cents for the revolving funds are ready for distribution."

NEW PLANNING MILL.

A new industry under the name of The Costa Mesa Planning Mill is under way on the lot at the rear of the Wayside Market. The lot is owned by W. C. Spencer. The

PACIFIC COAST BUILDING HAS HUGE GAIN

With a grand total of $492,049, 908 in building permits issued during 1923 in fifty-four cities of the Pacific Coast States, an increase of more than thirty eight per cent in building activities is shown for the year just ended over the total figures of these cities for 1922, according to the Pacific Coast section of the National Monthly Building Survey of S. W. Straus and Co.

The December grand total, $41,545,570, for these fifty-four cities included in the Straus survey, is fifty-one per cent greater than the December total for 1922 and shows a fifteen per cent gain over November, 1923, despite the fact that seasonal interruption of building operations caused a November-to-December reduction in thirty cities and twenty-one of them reported smaller December totals than for 1922.

Relative Annual Gain. Utah, with four cities reporting, showed the greatest relative annual gain, fifty-three per cent, while California, with 35 cities reporting, came second with a gain of forty-two per cent over 1922. Washington gained twenty per cent, Oregon seventeen per cent

Romances of fiction cannot compare with the romance of modern business and professional life. Of all professions through which the thread of romance runs that of engineering is the most replete with real, vital, gripping romance. Even the building of a sewer has its romantic and adventurous side. One of the most important workers today on the joint outfall sewer project of Santa Ana, Anaheim, Fullerton and Orange is M. Crosthwaite, diver. It is this man who labors from six to eight hours daily under the waters of the ocean caulking the joints in the ocean end of the huge outfall pipe.

The completion of the ocean end of the line will mark the end of the largest engineering job that has ever been attempted in Santa Ana. W. G. Knox, city engineer for Santa Ana has been in complete charge of the work and is completing a project that will stand as the first definite marker of the development era entered by this city.

The success of the project depends to a great extent on Crosthwaite, the man who, wearing the heavy equipment of a diver, labors many feet below the water placing and fastening in place the heavy sections of outlet pipe. On this men depends the durability of the most important section of the outfall, the ocean end. Unless his work is perfect in every part the entire system is worthless.

While he is laboring under water, assisting in the development of this county and city, his safety and very life depends on two lines and the faithfulness of two divers' tenders. Should his airline break or the signal rope reaching from the diver to his tenders become snarled, or fail to head a signal from the man turning the wheel of the air pump cease his work for even a moment death faces the diver. His work is a part of the romance of modern engineering.

According to City Engineer Knox the ocean end of the outfall will be completed within the next sixty days. The remainder of Santa Ana's portion of the line is completed and ready to start operation on the day that the city sewage is turned into the line.

TERMINAL RATE ANAHEIM PLANS IS GRANTED IN ORANGE

Employing 175 persons and distributing a monthly payroll of approximately $12,000, The California Wire company, the California Cordage company and the Western Cordage company, three manufacturing enterprises at Orange operating virtually under the same ownership, today had further demonstrated their influence by having secured terminal rates for the raw material coming to their plants and finished products shipped out in carload quantities.

According to a statement today by Fred Grote, secretary, concession by the railroad companies of terminal rates had placed the manufacturing concerns on an equal footing with Los Angeles, so far as freight rates are concerned. At the same time he declared that Orange offered advantages superior to Los Angeles for the operation of industries.

The wire company is insulating 400,000 feet of electric wire daily, most of the 25,000 pounds of cotton twine produced daily by the California Cordage company being used in the insulation process. The Western Cordage company, which manufactures rope, has been operating but a short time. The wire company has been manufacturing for two years and today its product is being shipped virtually all over the world, according to Grote.

The three enterprises have been financed mostly by citizens of Orange and all are successful and going institutions, Grote said. He pointed out that the wire company had paid semi-annual dividends ever since its organization. The rope factory will be open all day tomorrow to visitors from Santa Ana, it was announced, by the secretary.

Mexican Sailors Pass Through U. S.

NOGALES, Ariz., Jan. 17.—Leaving for New Orleans to man a cruiser purchased by the Obregon government from the United States, 312 Mexican sailors passed through this city from Nogales, Sonora, today. The crew, commanded by a "Lieutenant-Mayor" crossed the boundary this morning. They were gathered from Mazatlan, Sinaloa, and Guaymas, Sonora, and came north by train.

Five miles of paved highway to be added to the street and water system of Anaheim in the near future. This was the decision of the city council last night when plans were submitted for the paving and water mains by Councilman Stock and City Manager Steward.

The drawings prepared by the city authorities call for the paving of many of the main arteries of travel and a number of the connecting links, which will have the effect of giving Anaheim an almost continuous line of paved thoroughfares to the north and south limits of the city.

Install Mains First. It is planned by the city council to delay the paving of the streets included in the plan until water mains have been installed. It is estimated that the entire work will cost approximately $100,000, for which it will be necessary to call a bond issue at a date to be determined at a later meeting of the city council.

Here's List of Streets. The streets, which are included in the general paving program are: Illinois, Center to Broadway South Ohio, Center to Broadway South Ohio, Broadway to Santa Ana; North Palm, Center to City Limits; Oak street, North Palm to Lemon; Chasunt, North Palm to Lemon; West Cypress, North Palm to North Lemon; North Olive, Santa Ana to West North; South Vine, Santa Ana to Center; Melrose, Broadway to Center; Elm street, Lemon to Los Angeles; Adele, Lemon to Olive; Santa Ana, Los Angeles to Olive.

The plan for the foregoing streets is a part of a general paving program that will ultimately make of Anaheim a network of paved highways.

COUNTY SOLONS PLAN MEETING TO DISCUSS COLO. RIVER WATER AID

Will Invite Executives of Leading Cities in Southland

SEEK ADEQUATE HELP

Gathering Probably Will Assemble in Los Angeles or Long Beach

The board of supervisors of Orange county, and officials of other counties and some of the cities of the Southland will be called into a conference soon for discussion of plans for bringing water into Southern California from the Colorado river, according to information from Long Beach today.

Date of the conference, or the city in which it will be held, has not been selected. It was intimated that the gathering would be held in Los Angeles or Long Beach.

The $40,000,000 program, projected for the Los Angeles county flood control district and the proposed plan of augmenting the Southern California water supply by bringing 50,000 or more miner's inches of water across the desert from the Colorado river, has served to bring to the forefront the subject of a water supply adequate to the rapid growing population of the area between the mountains and the sea.

Gigantic Plan.

Both of the gigantic projects, one involving a series of dams across the canyon mouths in the mountains, the other involving an aqueduct to the Boulder dam above the Needles on the Colorado river, will necessitate bond issues of considerable size and, in addition, will require joint action on the part of the national government, the flood control district, the cities of Long Beach and Los Angeles and numerous other interests.

It is to lay this situation before the taxpayers and property owners of the territory involved that the plan for a water conservation conference has been proposed.

Yet the matter of flood control, important as it is, is said to be less vital than the broader phase of water conservation since this would create genuine flood control by impounding the flood waters at their source in the mountains and would, in addition, make the water available for irrigation purposes and for replenishing the underground gravel beds which furnish the supply for the rapidly shrinking artesian area.

Invite Many.

Among the interests and organizations which probably will be invited to attend and take part in the proposed conference are the United States geologic survey; Major E. D. Ardery, United States harbor engineer; the Los Angeles county, Orange county and San Bernardino county supervisors; the Los Angeles county farm bureau; the San Gabriel valley ranchers association; the Los Angeles county regional planning commission; the Harbor chamber of commerce; representatives of all the municipalities of the San Gabriel valley and the area south of Whittier to the harbor, and all chambers of commerce and civic organizations interested in the growth and future development of this entire section.

2 WATER SHUT-OFF TESTS MADE HERE

According to the report of R. D. Bush, state oil and gas supervisor, the only new oil well operations in Orange county for the week ending January 12 was water shut-off tests by the Standard Oil company on two of its wells at Huntington Beach.

The report disclosed that no new wells were started in the county and that redrilling or deepening had not been started on any of the old wells.

For the week twenty-four new drilling operations were started, fifteen of these being in the Torrance field and three at Long Beach. In the previous week thirty-four new wells were started. Only six redrilling or deepening jobs were commenced in the period.

Ten holes were abandoned, as compared with three during the preceding week.

$2,000,000 Loss From Dock Blaze

ASHLAND, Wis., Jan. 17.—Fire which swept the Northwestern docks here last night, causing damage estimated at between one and two million dollars, was under control today and all danger of further spread of the flames is believed past. More than 250 persons assisted in battling the flames. Firemen labored under great difficulty due to the severe cold weather.

building will be 30x50 feet and one story is being built by Mr. Spencer and leased to the Mill. The owners of the mill are W. C. Jones, Mell Jones, J. H. Jones and R. E. Graves. Planing Mill machinery will be installed as soon as the building is completed. Mell Jones, one of the owners, is an experienced refrigerator man and may later work into the manufacture of refrigerators.

PLAN NEW CREAMERY.
Dairymen and ranchers in this section are expected to hold a conference soon looking toward the opening of a creamery in Yorba Linda, to take care of all the milk produced in this vicinity and put it on the market.

LEASES WAREHOUSE SITE.
A ten-year lease on a warehouse site has been obtained from the Union Pacific in Fullerton, by the Van Dien-Young Co., of Santa Ana, dealers in building improvements. It is announced. The date to begin construction has not yet been announced. The company plans by this means greatly to improve its service in Northern Orange county. The capital stock has been increased from $50,000 to $200,000 it is said.

PLANS CITY PARK.
A movement for a city park, long needed in Orange, it was pointed out, was started when directors of the Orange Community Chamber of Commerce went on record recently as favoring the creation of a sinking fund for the purchase of land for a recreational center.

ASKS FIRE PROTECTION.
Appealing to the people for better fire protection, and asking that immediate steps be taken for that purpose, Fire Chief A. W. Jackson presented a report to the Board of City Trustees Monday night for a bond issue of $50,000 for a fire boat, hall, truck, chemicals and three paid men in the department.

Awards Sewer Contract.
Winning out among eleven bidders, who sought the work, O. E. Green, Los Angeles contractor, today had been awarded the contract for construction of Orange's independent sewer line, connecting with the inter-city outfall system in which Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton are participating. Green's bid, divided into two sections, totaled $61,927.30, approximately $4,000 lower than his closest competitor, Fernald Barnett, Orange contractor, who bid $65,927.50.

and Arizona fourteen per cent over the previous year. Boise, Idaho, gained by twenty per cent, while Reno, Nevada, reports a nineteen per cent loss for the year. Annual gains of the larger cities are: Los Angeles, fifty-six per cent; San Francisco, three per cent; Portland, eleven per cent; Seattle, sixteen per cent; Salt Lake, thirty-four per cent; Long Beach, sixty-eight per cent; Oakland, twelve per cent, and San Diego, twenty-one per cent.

The year's total for Los Angeles, $200,133,181, is forty per cent of the grand total from the 54 cities in the Straus survey. California's total, $414,887,500, is eighty-four per cent of the whole. Washington, Oregon and Utah reported December totals smaller than those of November, while California and Arizona showed substantial gains for the closing month of the year.

Following are the figures of building permits issued in 1923, as reported to S. W. Straus and company by building department officials in the various cities of California:
Alameda, $1,676,080; Alhambra, $7,230,830; Bakersfield, $1,570,905; Berkeley, $7,567,139; Beverly Hills, $3,891,136; Chico, $479,644; Compton, $1,681,492; Emeryville, $375,451; Eureka, $1,582,000; Fresno, $5,590,104; Glendale, $10,047,694; Long Beach, $23,693,680; Los Angeles, $200,133,181; Modesto, $943,609; Oakland, $27,628,225; Palo Alto, $1,558,243; Pasadena, $11,534,186; Piedmont, $1,878,047; Pomona, $1,705,816; Redwood City, $1,196,086; Richmond, $1,145,004; Riverside, $2,511,712; Sacramento, $9,699,585; San Bernardino, $2,313,663; San Diego, $12,515,428; San Francisco, $46,686,622; San Jose, $2,737,990; San Leandro, $923,078; San Rafael, $490,365; Santa Ana, $5,166,687; Santa Barbara, $4,206,964; Santa Cruz, $735,658; Santa Monica, $5,537,779; Stockton, $3,897,130; Vallejo, $251,777. Total, $414,887,500.

Woman Is Injured When Auto Skids

ETNA MILLS, Jan. 17.—The condition of Mrs. Marjorie Eller Blake, who was injured when her car skidded on the ice on the streets of Montague and turned over, is not considered serious. Mrs. Blake and five companions were leaving the town of Montague when the accident happened. She lost control of the car when she drove on to the street covered with a sheet of ice, and in an effort to get on to solid ground crimped the wheels too far. When rescued the wheels of the car were spinning in the air and Mrs. Eller was pinioned in the front seat.

We've engaged a lady who is said to be the champion waffle maker of the country, and who can show us some new tricks in making crispy toast. This we have done for two reasons: Because it is "National Bread Week," and because it wouldn't hurt a bit to demonstrate these two kinds of electric cookery.

To give credit where it is due, Baker's

Bakery is furnishing the bread for the toast, and the waffles and toast are going to be made on Hold Heat Electric Appliances.

Now it's up to you! You can drop in at any time Friday and Saturday up to 9 o'clock Saturday evening and help yourself! They say she's good, and the proof of her waffles and toast will be the eating!

ATTENTION PARENTS

Statistics have been printed showing that of every 100 pupils entering the 5th grade, but 34 enter the High School, but 7 enter College, and but 2 graduate from College.

It is, if true, an astounding fact. Do we realize that only 1 family in 3 can afford to send their children to High School, but 1 family in 14 can start their children in College, and that the children in but 1 family in 50 graduate from College. There is one sure way to overcome this awful condition, and that is by SYSTEMATIC SAVING.

Here is a true story of one Santa Ana boy

Richard was born on January 5th, 1912. His parents the same month took out 1 share of Installment Stock in the Home Mutual Building and Loan Association. The payment of $1.00 per month was made and on January 1st, 1923 the share matured and the parents received a check for $200.00. This check was left with the association by the parents with instructions to apply the interest in carrying 1 share of the Installment Stock starting at that date. The parents decided that they would take another share of the Installment Stock and continue the $1.00 monthly as the payment for the 11 years had made such a payment a habit. Richard will in February enter the 7th grade and he should if he makes his grades each year graduate from the Junior College the mid-year term, Feb. 1932.

The parents will then have in this association the following:

One Investment note (the matured share) .....$200.00
One share stock, carried by the interest on Note ..... 150.73
One share stock carried by the monthly payment (108 mos.) .. 150.73

Actual Cash Value .....$501.46

When Richard leaves for the last 2 years in College, his parents will have $501.46 for his expenses. Richard will be one of the 2 pupils of the 100 pupils that entered the 5th grade that year. WILL YOUR SON BE THE OTHER ONE TO GRADUATE WITH HIM?

You will note that the parents actually contributed to the above securities but 240 monthly payments of $1.00 each, the balance of $261.46 will be the earnings contributed by the Home Mutual Building and Loan Association.

Are you making any effort NOW to make it possible for your children to get an education? It is not too late. Call at our office and inform us the age and the grade of any of your children and we will let you know just what sum you should make as a monthly payment to insure any amount for a College education.

NATIONAL THRIFT WEEK

which opens today is an economic educational movement, the object of which is to help the individual and the family to get ahead. It is based on the principle that thrift is a fundamental of Success, Prosperity and Happiness.

This educational thrift campaign is conducted during the week of January 17-23 each year. IT IS FOSTERED BY THE Y. M. C. A. and endorsed by 47 of the leading civic, commercial, educational and religious organizations of the country. Benjamin Franklin's Birthday, January 17th, marks the opening of the week, the days of which are as follows for January, 1924.

Thursday, January 17—National Thrift Day.

Friday, January 18—National Budget Day.

Saturday, January 19—Pay Bills Promptly Day.

Sunday, January 20—Share With Others Day.

Monday, January 21—Life Insurance Day.

Tuesday, January 22—Own Your Home Day.

Wednesday, January 23—Make a Will Day.

National Thrift Week has been endorsed and has the co-operation of the U. S. League of Local Building and Loan Associations, representing ten thousand branches, six million members, and total assets of three billion dollars. National "Own Your Home" Day occurs next Tuesday, January 22nd.

There is never going to be a better time to start to "Own Your Home" than right now. It is the most Thrifty thing you can do.

It means future happiness for you; it means getting on the road to financial success. In fact it means everything to you and to those you love.

Take time today to picture the happiness that will be yours. Take time to consider that you are investing your money not spending it for rent.

Let us start you on this road of Thrift. Our easy payment plans will not tax your income too greatly. But do it today. Now!

QUAKE MURDER CASE SUSPECTS DUE FOR TRIAL

TOKYO, Jan. 17.—"Mistaken patriotism" will apparently be the plea of Japanese officers and volunteer guards who are accused of murdering Koreans and Japanese "reds" during the post-earthquake period.

This plea probably will result in sentences of imprisonment only and not the death penalty.

Several hundred persons, both Koreans and Japanese, who were suspected of being "reds," or "socialists," were murdered throughout the earthquake area. Most of them were killed during the disorganized days immediately following the disaster. Some, however, were killed a week or two later by gendarmes who were guarding them in jail.

Young Men In Crime
Most of the murders were committed by volunteer guards, young men who organized defense corps. In all cases the plea seems to be the same: "Our country faced a terrible catastrophe. We were afraid the reds and socialists and Koreans would attempt violence, perhaps even a revolution. We thought it to the best interests of our country to kill them—however mistaken it seems now we may have been in that belief."

Wild reports were circulated just after the earthquake—apparently with no foundation—that "Koreans and reds" were going to arise, murder the Japanese, overthrow the government. Some of the volunteers ran amuck, killing Koreans and Japanese suspected of radicalism wherever they were found. Between 300 and 400 were killed. Some 50 young men have been arrested. The accused are being held in prison and the authorities are continuing their investigations.

Relatives of Sakae Otsu, the famous Japanese radical, who, with members of his family, were murdered by military police after the earthquake, have sued the government for $50,000 damages.

Generals and Three Non-Commissioned Officers
Three non-commissioned officers, who are accused of the murders, are in prison awaiting the outcome of secret investigations by the authorities.

Three Deaths
Otsu, described both as a "socialist" and an "anarchist," his wife, and Shochi Tachibana, the 7-year-old nephew of Otsu, were all three choked to death one night at a gendarme post where they had been arrested because Otsu was a radical.

The bodies were thrown in a well. The crime was kept secret for almost a month. Then Amakasu, the captain in charge, reported their death to his superior and, in an alleged confession, said that he had choked each of the three, the man, woman and child, to death.

Then Amakasu made another "confession" in which he said he had only killed Otsu, but that he had ordered his non-commissioned officers to kill the woman and child and that they had obeyed, and therefore he was responsible.

Movie Chatterbox

From out of the storm of condemnation heaped upon the many motion picture schools springing up over the country has come a voice of praise for the dramatic schools that really teach.

Each day there pour into Hollywood many score young men and girls, trained in a few short weeks to be, according to the promises made by the fake instructors, film stars of the greatest brilliance. Disappointment naturally awaits them, and in many cases, with their last cent paid for the teaching that doesn't teach, they face great hardships before they ever, if at all, do finally break into the picture players' ranks.

Estelle Taylor whose latest success is the part of Miriam in Cecil B. DeMille's "Ten Commandments," condemns the fake schools as much as anyone, but she is strong for the legitimate dramatic courses in recognized, and well might she be, for she is a graduate of one herself.

"Motion pictures have attracted their quota of unlawful Shylocks just as any other successful industry has drawn them," Miss Taylor said. "It is, however, unfair to the honest dramatic and movie schools to allow the impression to spread that all acting schools are fakes."

"Aspiring movie actors and actresses will find that a training obtained at a real dramatic school will prove a big asset not only in getting a start but in achieving prominence as well. A genuine dramatic training at an established school is one of the biggest assets a beginner can have."

With preparations for the production almost complete, Goldwyn will soon start photographing "Ben Hur" in Italy, the film which is expected to take its place as one of the leading film offerings of 1924.

H. E. Edington, business manager, and June Mathis, Editorial director, have already left Hollywood for Italy, where they will join Director Charles Brabin and arrange final details for starting the massive work.

George Walsh will play the much coveted role of "Ben Hur." Carl Myers has been chosen to enact Isha, the Egyptian siren of Gen. Lew Wallace's famous novel, while Gertrude Olmsted will be Ester and Kathleen Kay will play the role of Tirzah, Ben Hur's sister.

Once more Jackie Coogan is passing up the gamin's garb in favor of wooden shoes and the comical pantaloons of the Flemish youth. In Jackie's forthcoming picture, just launched at Metro, he plays the part of Nello, boy hero of Quida's childhood classic, "A Dog of Flanders." The picture will be issued under the title of "A Boy of Flanders."

Lloyd Hughes has found a solution for the Los Angeles midnight closing law. He is going to have his own ballroom. In the Beverly Hills home, which he and his wife, Gloria Hope, are planning, there will be a waxed floor as large as that in any of the downtown cafes.

The Mary Philbin company has returned to Universal city after spending a week in Catalina Island, where exteriors were filmed for the new feature, "The Inheritors," which King Baggett is directing. The film is a modern plan of English story and setting.

June Mathis, who wrote the scenario for "Ben Hur," is a great student of the Bible. She has a collection of 50 rare copies, many of them very valuable.

Patsy Ruth Miller, who will soon be seen in "Name the Man," declares she isn't reducing, but the fact remains she has organized a walking society of her girl friends, and the group hikes all over the Hollywood hills.

HONDURAS VETERANS FORM LEGION POST

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—Another group of World war veterans, in a country far removed from that of their comrades, has been granted a post charter in the American Legion. This post is located in Puerto Castilla, Honduras, and is formed for the most part, of employees of the Truxillo Railroad company.

Willard A. Beaulac, United States vice-consul at Puerto Castilla is post commander. Although but fifteen are required to organize, the new post started with a membership of thirty. This is the second post of the Legion to be formed in Honduras, the other being the "Forgotten Comrade" Post at Tela. Incidentally, the new post is one of the first to be chartered for 1924.

German Savants Wanted Abroad

TUBINGEN, Wurtemberg, Jan. 15.—German scientists still are well considered in the outside world, for no fewer than four prominent savants recently have been called from Germany to learned institutions abroad.

Professor R. R. Schmidt of Tubingen university, an archaeologist, has sailed for New York to deliver a course of lectures at Yale and Columbia universities. Professor Schmidt has conducted excavations in Wurtemberg and is an authority on prehistoric man.

Professor Von Hoyningen-Huene, also of Tubingen university, has sailed for Buenos Aires, where he will conduct researches on saurian fossils under the auspices of La Plata university. Professor Huene is the head of the geological-paleontological institute of his home university.

Dr. Anton A. Dampf, for many years leader of the Zoological Institute of Koenigsberg university, has received a call from the Agricultural college of Mexico City to take over the post of professor of applied zoology and state entomologist. Dr. Dampf was formerly on the staff of the colonial government of German East Africa.

Railroad Creates New Position At Santa Ana Depot

Indicating that Santa Ana's phenomenal growth is winning substantial recognition from the Santa Fe Railroad company, it was announced here today that the post of city passenger agent had been created for this city and that George H. Montes, for fourteen years with the company at San Diego, had been given the position.

"I will be 'on the job' at the Santa Fe station here to give service," said Montes, who was for eight years cashier in the city ticket office of the Santa Fe at San Diego. "I will be available at all times to help prospective passengers on our lines arrange itineraries, make reservations, and attend to the many other details incident to travelling."

"Santa Ana is without exception the best city in Southern California, from every standpoint. I am certainly glad to have been transferred to this thriving city."

EDINGER SQUARE

"Sunny Sites for Happy Homes—on the road to NEWPORT HARBOR"

Grand 1924 Opening Sale SUNDAY

January 20th

EDINGER SQUARE having passed under new management, an Opening Sale for 1924 will take place on Sunday January 20.

Under this new management improvements are being rushed. Sidewalks are nearly all in. Water is in, streets are graded, gas and electricity are on the way. There will be no waiting now. ACTION is the slogan. Imperative orders have been given that no expense shall be spared to bring EDINGER SQUARE swiftly to the highest degree of efficiency. No excuses are to be taken from anyone.

The moment improvements are completed, prices will continue to go up, provided any lots are left. About half are now sold.

If you want the bargain of your lifetime with possibilities of quick and extraordinary profits, NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY.

Come out! Inspect! Compare!! Prices as low as $450 with moderate down payment and balance at convenient periods. Obey that hunch! Act NOW!

$2,500 To Be Given Away

On Sunday, January 20, all lots will advance in price $100 each but to the first buyers of 25 50x125 ft. lots on that day we will sell at the prices prevailing on Saturday, January 19. This amounts to a gift of $2,500. (Two thousand five hundred dollars) for no lots will be sold at less than an advance of $100 each on and after Sunday, January 20. Considering the way in which property is rising in value all around this section of Santa Ana, this increase of $100 per lot is small indeed. It will be necessary to make a further advance in price in the very near future. Those who are lucky enough to get here first on Sunday, 20 will have the opportunity of a lifetime to get a REAL BARGAIN. Remember lots at these prices go to buyers of the FIRST TWENTY-FIVE ONLY on that day. COME EARLY!

50 x 125 ft. lots $900 and up including improvements

You cannot alter facts—this is what you find at EDINGER SQUARE

Sunny weather at EDINGER SQUARE practically the year round.
Ideal place for family—children welcome.
P. E. Bus connects with line to Los Angeles and other important points. It stops at corner of tract and goes no farther South.
Crown Stages to beaches—15 minutes away—pass EDINGER SQUARE on schedule time.
Bus to Santa Ana business section—5 minutes away—starts from EDINGER SQUARE. Fare is 5 cents.

Santa Ana Industrial Section with two operating sugar refineries, a textile mill to be built and other factories planned, is just south of EDINGER SQUARE.
Quick action in improvements to be rushed, most of them already in.
Santa Ana's newest high school is four blocks away from EDINGER SQUARE. Other schools within easy distance.
Two blocks to a popular chain grocery store and market. Shopping generally easy and reasonable.

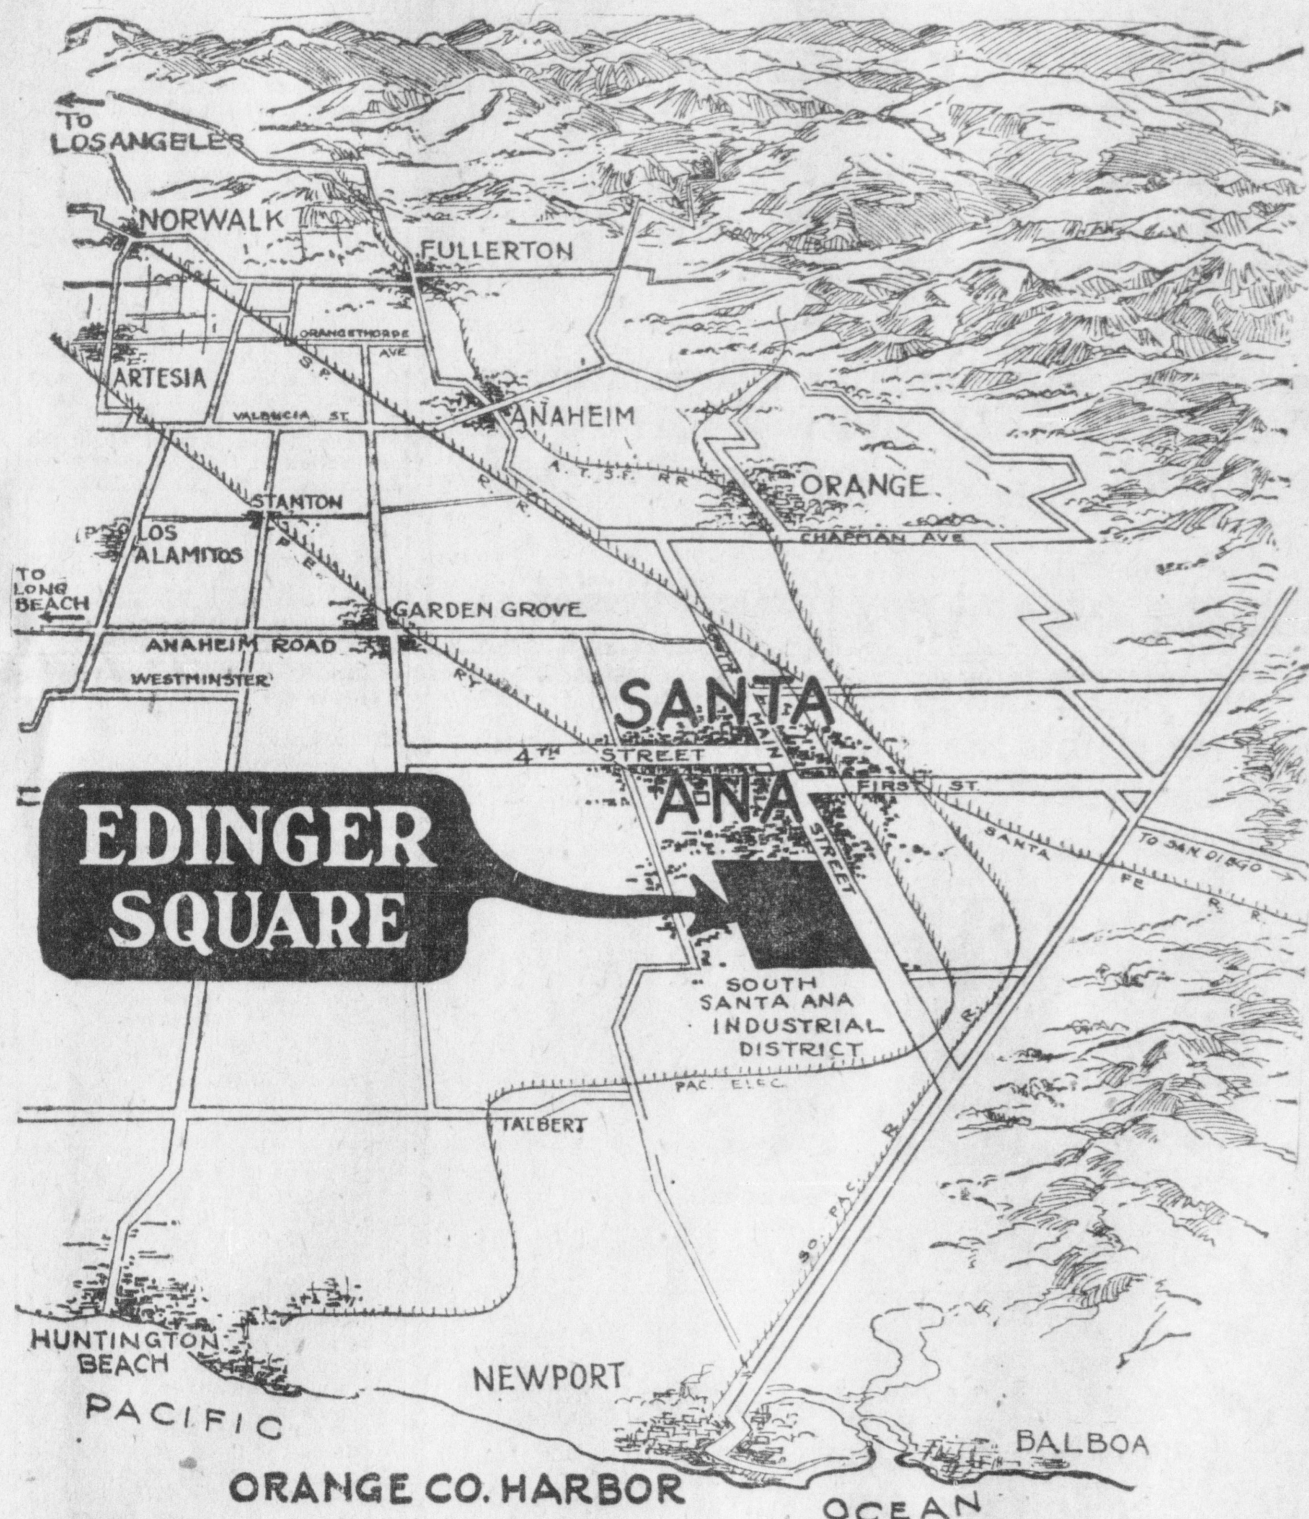

All around EDINGER SQUARE is built up. This means quick building on this tract.
Adjoining city limits. No high taxes, yet all the benefits of the city.
Compared with other tracts is the lowest in price, quality for quality, yet has the greatest possibilities for large and quick profits.

WELL REVEALS FOSSILS

Hill formation back of the oil well being drilled by the Tepathol Oil company on the W. K. Robinson ranch, and which is pointed to as an indication that oil bearing sands will be found in that vicinity. The blowouts, according to members of the company, also are of interest from a geological standpoint.

Finding of a small petrified fish and of pieces of broken bones and shells in the oil well of the Tepathol Oil company, operating on the W. K. Robinson ranch in Trabuco canyon, today had added interest to the discovery recently on the Trabuco mesa of fossil beds that are of extreme interest to scientists.

According to Walter Jacobson, head driller at the well, the petrified fish and bone and shells were found at a depth of approximately 1425 feet.

"The drill was going through a dark, brown shale when it broke into the fossil formation," said Jacobson. "Balling showed that we were drilling in a solid bed of this formation and served to emphasize the importance of the discovery by scientists of the fossil beds one or two miles south of the well."

According to the driller, good progress is being made on the Tepathol well, with indications becoming more favorable to the discovery of oil as depth is attained by the drill.

The oil company is controlled by a group of men residing in the vicinity of Santa Ana and those interested maintain their belief that the company is destined to open a new and important oil field in this county.

part toward reduction. Taxes should come down, all along the line--state, national and local. Begin at the top, and also begin at the bottom at the same time. Do not wait to see what the other fellow is going to do about it. There is no danger that taxes will be too low. Not a bit of it. They will always be high enough, and too high. Reduce taxes. Support the man and the organization that shows results in the way of economy. Vote against everybody that plans for extravagance or tries to make excuses for high taxes. If we work together, something will be accomplished."

How to Reduce Taxes

Editor Register: The inclosed article "How to Reduce Taxes" seems to me very much to the point and should be given additional publicity. You will notice it was taken from the January issue of "Farm Life." Would like to see it republished in The Register.

In order to get down to earth we must all do everything in our power to reduce taxes and keep the politicians from running wild.

Very truly yours,
GEORGE B. SHATTUCK.
"We may not altogether agree with the details of Secretary Mellon's plan to reduce taxes, indorsed "unqualifiedly" by the President in his message, but it is a move in the right direction. The matter is as simple as it is important. The way to reduce taxes is to start right where you are and begin to reduce--and keep on reducing until taxes get down to the point where they may be paid without burdensome sacrifices. The government has made a start and any congressman who tries to block the movement will find himself out of luck. Every state legislature which meets this winter should fall in step with the tax reduction program. Every county, every municipality, every school district--everybody everywhere that has anything to do with valuations or assessments should do his

ALL WOMEN WHO WORK

Should Know how this Worker was Made Strong and Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Zahl, N. Dak. "I was nervous and weak and was not regular. I also had pains frequently.

I was sickly for seven years and finally had a nervous break-down following an operation. I am a dressmaker and milliner, and a lady I work for told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am taking it and it has made me well and able to do my work again. I have even helped take care of a sick neighbor recently, so you can see how fit I am. I highly praise your medicine and you may use my letter as you see fit. I hope it will help some other woman."--Mrs. OLE NORDLEIN, Box 23, Zahl, North Dakota.

Over 121,000 women have so far replied to our question. "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?" 98 per cent. of these replies answer "Yes."

This means that 98 out of every 100 women taking this medicine for ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it. For sale by all druggists.

Furman Tract No. 1

A Home You Can Pay For Quickly!

Property values increase so swiftly in Santa Ana that the average man is hard put to find a location where he can build a home that suits him at a cost he can pay out in a reasonable time. Furman Tract No. 1 will be out of the reach of such a man in a few years, but right now it is his big chance. It's new, prices are low, restrictions are not burdensome, and it costs mighty little to get started and won't take long to pay out!

Lots, $750
Business Lots, $950
10% Down

The easy terms mean a lot to the average man! They mean a home, an investment where rapid development is certain in 1924. And a man gets a lot for his money! He gets his curbs, gas to every lot in addition to mains, water mains, electricity, rolled and gravelled streets. You can't beat it!

EARNING INITIAL $100 REVEALED TO KIWANIS

How they earned and saved their first $100 today had been disclosed by five Kiwanis club members, these competing for the weekly attendance prize as the organization met at St. Ann's Inn yesterday, when a Thrift week program was featured.

Those speaking were T.A. Winbiger of the Winbiger Mission Furniture Co.; Earl C. Foster, local music teacher; D. N. Kelly, secretary and manager of the Abstract and Title Guaranty company; Stanley Reed, of the Reed Advertising agency, and Horace Fine of The Register staff. The prize went to Winbiger on the basis of his address being concluded nearest the expiration of two minutes.

The program was arranged by Elmer L. Crawford, cashier of the California National bank, and Cotton Mather, secretary and manager of the Santa Ana Building and Loan association.

As members entered the dining room they deposited 10 cents and were given an envelope containing a check for $1 on the California National bank, for the opening of a savings account, and a road map of Southern California, presented by the bank.

F. C. Blauer, chairman of the committee on under privileged children, reported activities to the committee for the year. He reported the club had assisted financially in the treatment of a local lad for correction of a crippled condition, the outfitting of an orphan to permit him to continue his school studies, assistance to a young lady during illness and her return to relatives in an Eastern city.

A "radio-land program," with Stanley Reed behind the curtain was an amusing feature of the entertainment program. Reed gave purported news items from various points of the compass in which "bits" were made on several members of the club. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hummel also joined in the attempted deception and favored with two duets, the program concluding with Mrs. Hummel presenting two vocal solos.

Would Administer His Wife's Estate

Fred N. Best of this city today had filed a petition in the superior court here for letters of administration over the estate of his deceased wife, Eva M. Best, who left property valued at $13,000. A $6,000 war risk insurance policy and real estate in Riverside county comprised the bulk of the estate. The husband and four children are heirs of the deceased. The children are Warren C. Best, Santa Ana; Glen C. Best, Orange; Ross N. Best, Seely, Calif.; and Eva H. Best, Lamoni, Ia.

Schoolboy Hurt When Cycle Hit

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—Suffering from internal injuries and two fractures of the left leg, Mario Lanza, 14-year-old Oakland schoolboy, is in the Providence hospital in a critical condition as a result of injuries sustained when the bicycle he was riding at Claremont and College avenues, Oakland, was struck by a creamery truck trailer, which swerved as the truck turned the corner and hurled the boy from the bicycle. The driver did not stop.

Fix 5 Year Term For S. A. Prisoner

Harry Foster, who was sentenced to San Quentin from Orange county for second degree burglary June 6, 1923, must serve a term of five years, it was made known here today.

In a communication from the board of prison directors to the superior court here, on file at the office of County Clerk J. M. Backs, the length of Foster's sentence was shown.

Talbert

TALBERT, Jan. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cline were delighted at the arrival Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. Lyn Roseman who were former close friends and neighbors of the family in Oklahoma. The Rosemans arrived in California but a few weeks ago and this was the first meeting of the families. On Saturday evening quite a party was gathered at the Cline home to meet the visitors, among them Mr. and Mrs. Noah Gill, Mr. and Mrs. Breeding and family of this place and Mrs. Cline's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. McCracken and family, of Greenville.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Cline and family motored with their house guests to Huntington taking their lunch and giving Mr. and Mrs. Roseman their first sight of the ocean and first day's outing on the beach. The Rosemans returned to their home at Redlands Monday morning.

Jess Davis has purchased a house from Hugo Lamb and had it moved the latter part of the week to his four acre tract on the Gilbert subdivision. Davis does not intend to occupy the house, it is understood.

The Fountain Valley school was closed at noon Monday out of respect for Mrs. Joseph Culver of Snelitzer, mother of Mrs. Myrtle Lelison, teacher in the school, whose funeral occurred in Santa Ana at two o'clock that afternoon. A lovely floral piece was contributed by the pupils of the four upper grades of the school, two classes of which are under Mrs. Lelison's supervision and another was sent by members of the school faculty. A number of those from the school were in attendance at the funeral.

Among others who attended from this community were, Mrs. Preston, Mrs. Talbert, Mrs. Depoister, Mrs. Laurence Doyle, Miss Dora Davis, Rene Callens and daughter, John Pope, Miss Smith, Mrs. M. A. Nimocks, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Giesler and family, Miss Kellar, D. C. Gilbert, son, Doyle, and daughter, Lola, Clarence Preston.

Miss Deda Gilbert has been ill since Sunday and as a result missed several days of school.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Giesler and family of this place and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harper of Long Beach were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Stoffle of Anaheim.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lacabanne entertained Mrs. Lacabanne's sisters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. P. Lacabanne and two children and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Landin and baby of Los Angeles at their home last Sunday.

Mrs. S. E. Talbert has received the announcement card from her nephew, Earl Carter and wife of Long Beach telling of the birth of a daughter on January 14th, whom they have named Bettie Bell.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson and family who have been under quarantine for scarlet fever for several weeks have been released, all members of the family having fully recovered.

Jako Shrode, an uncle of Mrs. S. E. Talbert, a cousin, Lloyd Shrode and wife of Anaheim and Mrs. Lloyd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pemberton, also of that city were Sunday evening visitors at the Talbert home.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Barbee moved Tuesday to the Dinmore place.

Mrs. Hiram Proctor's condition has taken a decided turn for the better and Dr. Ruth Sanderson who has been staying with her has returned to Los Angeles. Mrs. Proctor has been very ill since Christmas.

Opal Cline who has been out of school since sustaining a severely sprained ankle a week ago last Saturday while at play with other children was sufficiently recovered to return to her studies Wednesday. Rheumatism in the affected limb had retarded her recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Gill of Greenville moved the past week and are now occupying a part of the house on the Hill ranch with Mrs. Gill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cline. Gill is in the employ of Mr. Breeding.

Miss Fern Nichols of Los Angeles was a week-end visitor at the Hiram Proctor home.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman are the proud parents of a nine pound daughter whose birth occurred January 13th. They call her Dorothy Elaine.

William West of Los Angeles was a Sunday visitor in Talbert.

Miss Dorothy Rogers, who was taken ill with influenza Sunday was still confined to her bed at the last report Tuesday. She was quite

CHANCELLORS IN GERMANY NUMEROUS

BERLIN, Jan. 17. — Germany's chancellors have changed so often under the republic that few Germans can remember the names of all the men who have attempted to keep governments together in the five years of democracy which have brought such troubled times to the German public. There have been nine different chancellors under the democratic regime.

In the 47 years which elapsed from the time of Bismarck expanded Germany into an empire and became its first chancellor until the republic was declared, there were only eight chancellors.

Bismarck himself served 19 years before he fell out with the dethroned kaiser, who is now in Holland, and made way for General von Caprivi in 1890. Caprivi held office for four years and was succeeded by Prince Hohenlohe, who retained office for six years.

Prince Buelow then became chancellor for nine years. Von Bethmann-Hollweg took over the office in 1909 and left it eight years later.

Dr. Michaelis was chancellor from July until November, 1917. Count Hertling took over the office then and held it till September, 1918. He was succeeded by Prince Max of Baden, who was in office only a few weeks. Friedrich Ebert the present president of the Reich, became chancellor for two days, from Nov. 9 to Nov. 11, 1918. He marked the transition into the democratic period. After his two days of service a commission of six socialists: Ebert, Scheidemann and Landsberg, of the majority party, and Haase, Dittmann and Barth, of the independents, took over the government; and there was no regular cabinet until February, 1919, when the national assembly met at Weimar and Philipp Scheidemann, became chancellor.

He resigned the following June rather than sign the Versailles treaty, and Gustav Bauer took over the office for about a year. Hermann Mueller became chancellor in March, 1920, and remained in office three months. Then Constantin Fehrenbach, of

Name Colton Man To Examine Wells

Information received here today stated that N. Herrick of Colton had been appointed by the tri-counties reforestation committee to make an examination of all of the artesian wells in the San Bernardino artesian basin and to confer with property owners as to the best means of preventing waste of water. Herrick is provided with a letter of identification and the cooperation of all property owners in this work has been solicited.

The Catholic party, became chancellor and held the post for a year. Joseph Wirth, also of the Catholic party, came into office in May, 1921, and retired in November, 1922.

Dr. William Cuno took over the post of chancellor upon Wirth's retirement and held it till last August under the trying situation brought about by the occupation of the Ruhr by the French, and the efforts of the German government to defeat the French by passive resistance.

The catastrophic financial collapse and the decline of the mark to a point never before reached by any other great power's money forced Dr. Cuno's retirement, and Dr. Gustav Stresemann attempted to patch up what remained of the republic after the disastrous attempt to finance Ruhr resistance at the sacrifice of the interests of the rest of the republic.

Stresemann held on till November with a coalition cabinet, but the food shortage and the mounting bread prices, together with widespread unemployment and the clashes of authority between the Bavarian and Saxon governments and the Berlin central government, proved his undoing, and he made way for Dr. William Marx, of the Catholic party, the present chancellor. Dr. Stresemann remains in the Marx cabinet as minister of foreign affairs.

Of the nine men who have held the chancellorship under the republic four were social democrats, Ebert, Scheidemann, Bauer and Mueller. Three belonged to the Catholic party, Fehrenbach, Wirth and Marx. Cuno was a non-parliamentary chancellor, having been selected as the representative of no party, and Stresemann held the chancellorship as a member of the People's party.

Then Constantin Fehrenbach, of

DELAY CAUSES FAIR JUROR TO "CUSS"

PORTLAND, Jan. 17. — Mrs. Louise Palmer Weber, club woman and prominent in democratic women's organizations, "cussed" out a jury and caused such confusion in the jury room that she was dismissed from further service, it became known this morning.

"I admit I said 'hell' and 'heavens' and 'damn' and other words just as bad," she declared. "I admit I called the other jurors ignoramuses, one man a fool and another a boob, but if you'll look up the word 'boob' in the dictionary you'll find I was right."

She said the jury in a claims case "fiddled around" after one man suggested a verdict be withheld until after supper so a free meal could be had at the county's expense. Then another juror said they had better not agree too soon, or it would look as if they had waited for supper.

"They fiddled around until 10:30 p. m. and wanted to delay the verdict until morning, to save them the price of a room," she declared. "Then is when I turned loose."

A verdict was returned at 1:30 a. m. but Judge Tazwell agreed to free the woman from further jury duty at her request after other jurors had objected to her "swearing."

Mrs. Weber was formerly active in a fight to have women placed on juries.

Tract Agents to Give Phonographs

For the purpose of advertising and attracting interest in the new Homewood tract, at Buena Park, being prepared for opening January 27, the owners will give away five Maytona cabinet phonographs, it was announced here today.

The only requirement is that persons register names and addresses at the several offices of the A. E. C. Sales company, sales agent for the tract. Persons winning the phonographs must be on the tract January 7.

Three houses are under construction at the tract and sales company officials said they understood more would be erected. Curbs and sidewalks are going in, and eucalyptus trees will be planted along a wide-boulevard, it was declared.

"THE COVERED WAGON"

Famous Photoplay of Early Life
Theater Here Jan. 24

"The Covered Wagon," the motion picture which has already won the greatest success in New York, Boston and Los Angeles, will be shown at the Temple theater, Santa Ana, for five days, beginning Thursday, Jan. 24. Manager E. D. Yost, announced today, where, as in the other cities mentioned, it is expected to draw capacity houses at the daily matinee and night performances. Beside the stirring dramatic incidents of the Emerson Hough narrative, the thrilling beauty of the scenes, and the exciting episodes of the prairie fire, the Indian attack and the perilous fording of the treacherous Platte River by the wagon train, the picture carries a message of high patriotism that reaches the heart of every beholder.

No one can see "The Covered Wagon" without gaining a new understanding of the courage and idealism of those brave souls who created the civilization of the West, nor can anyone escape a feeling of pride that these men and women were the forebears of the true Americans of today. The chief characters in this stupendous photoplay are impersonated on the screen by J. Warren Kerrigan, Lois Wilson, Alan Hale, Charles Ogle, Ethel Wales, Ernest Torrence, Tully Marshall, Guy Oliver and John Fox. The musical accompaniment to the picture, arranged by Hugo Reisenfeld, as played by a special orchestra.

WILD ANIMAL FILM AT PRINCESS THEATRE

Mrs. Martin Johnson, the fearless young wife of the celebrated big game hunter and naturalist, who accompanied her husband on their recently completed African expedition, frequently encountered wild animals when she was alone, away from her husband, during their trip. Her interesting account of her meeting with a ferocious rhino was told in a recent interview in connection with the photoplay, "Trailing Wild African Animals," which Mr. and Mrs. Johnson made in Africa. This film will be shown at the Princess theater tonight only.

"Being charged by a monstrous, ugly-looking rhinoceros is not the most pleasant way in which to spend a Wednesday afternoon," she began. "I remember very clearly my first one. I had sent one of my native boys to deliver a message for me, and I was awaiting his return. He came back sooner than I had expected—but he wasn't alone. Behind him was a huge rhino, charging and almost on top of him."

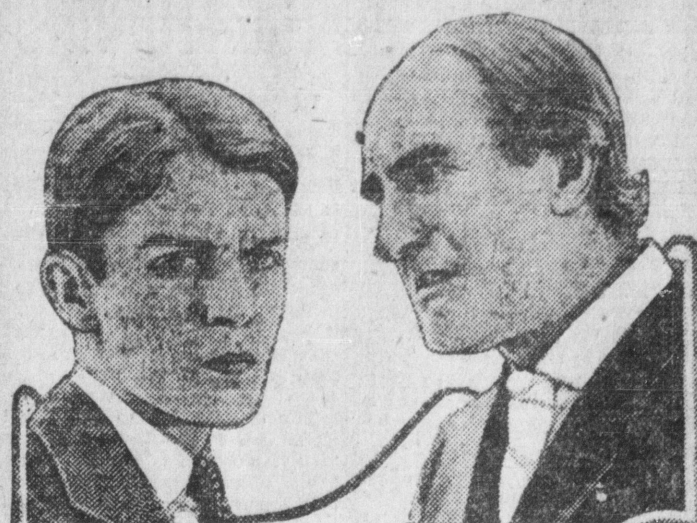

"I leveled my rifle and aimed at the base of the beast's horns. My shot had its effect, and the animal staggered. Another bullet, similarly aimed, finished him completely."

"TO THE LADIES" OPENS AT TEMPLE TONIGHT

"To the Ladies," James Cruze's latest work for Paramount, featuring Edward Horton, Theodore Roberts, Helen Jerome Eddy and Louise Dresser, comes to the Temple theater for a five days' run beginning tonight.

"Marcheta"

not trying to change the world, or the industry.

He's making good, human, honest stories that he hopes are going to give mama, and papa, and the kids a good evening of enjoyment, clean wholesome enjoyment, that will make them forget their cares and troubles. Maybe he's right.

"SOFT BOILED" OPENS AT WEST END TOMORROW

During a chat with the editor of an Eastern paper recently, Tom Mix, whose picture, "Soft Boiled," comes to the West End theater tomorrow, told how he happened to break into the movies.

"As a boy in the Southwest I saw Buffalo Bill do sharpshooting in a circus ring. I was a crack shot for a youngster, and on getting home tried out shooting glass balls from the top of my little sister's head. That went fine. Then I tried knife-throwing as I saw it at the circus. Dad arrived while I was trying to get the range on the woodshed against which sister stood. You should have heard Dad broadcasting his favorite heir from the woodshed.

"WEST OF THE WATER TOWER" AT YOST TONIGHT

Glenn Hunter, who has had his own experience and bumps in landing a place in stardom and whose hard knocks have given an added authority to what he says and does as the hero of "West of the Water Tower," tonight at the Yost theater for a three days' run, says that photoplay acting is more difficult than stage work, as it requires a more exacting technique.

"On the screen you are entirely dependent upon facial expression and body gesticulation to get your message across," Hunter says. "It is not enough to be natural, as so many persons seem to think. As a matter of fact, the appearance of naturalness on the screen can never be acquired by actual naturalness on the part of the performer."

Your last chance to win $500

THINK of a good title for this picture now! Send it in before 5 p.m., January 19. The Los Angeles Times offers $500 for the best title—any original thought or some quotation that cleverly and briefly describes the picture within 12 words. YOURS may be the title to capture first prize.

99 OTHER PRIZES

You may enter your titles in Class A (see prize schedule below) without spending one cent. No subscription is required.

If you wish to send in one new or renewal 3-months' subscription, paid in advance, you will be entitled to share in the larger awards in Class B—with prizes as high as $500.

Awards will be made for cleverness and brevity alone. Any sort of a title is likely to win. Put your wits to work.

This picture will not appear again. Start now! Contest closes Jan. 19.

OBSERVE THESE RULES:

1. The prizes will be awarded to the titles which best describe the picture. Class A is open to all. It is not necessary to subscribe to The Los Angeles Times to enter titles in this class. Class B is open to those who send in one new or renewal 3-months' subscription to The Los Angeles Times, paid in advance, and must not exceed twelve words each. Write all titles on coupon published in The Times, or on one sheet of paper, with name and address of sender.

2. If more than one title is submitted, only one title (the best) may receive a prize. Participants may co-operate in submitting titles, but only one prize will be awarded to any one household or group who have worked together.

3. In the event of a tie for any prize, the full amount of the prize will be given each tied participant.

4. All titles, subscription payments and inquiries must be addressed to Picture Title Contest Manager, The Los Angeles Times, Los Angeles, Cal.

5. Titles submitted in Class A may be transferred to Class B by qualifying with a subscription not later than 5 p.m., Jan. 16, 1924.

6. Titles will be judged by three well known persons of Los Angeles, to be announced later, and their decision will be final. The judges will meet on Jan. 21, and announcement of the prize winners will be published in The Times and checks mailed as soon thereafter as possible.

7. All titles, subscription payments and inquiries must be addressed to Picture Title Contest Manager, The Los Angeles Times, Los Angeles, Cal.

Volstead Responsible For $11,507 In Treasury Judge Reports

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 17.—Violators of the Volstead act in this city nearly supported the police department last year, according to statement made by C. W. Warner, judge of the local recorder's court.

A total of $11,507 was paid to the local court during 1923 for various violations of the Volstead act. A report submitted by Judge Warner shows that during the year 1923 cases were tried in his court in connection with booze. One hundred and eighty-two men were convicted. Two of these were arrested for selling booze. Seven were fined for transporting, seven for having liquor in their possession and 160 were brought in on charges of drunkenness.

Two $500 fines were levied by Judge Warner during the year. Several times of $500 were paid by alleged violators of the act in this city as that is the maximum sentence here for possession or transporting of booze.

Sixty-six were sentenced to serve jail sentences of from thirty to ninety days on charges of drunkenness during the year.

DEPUTY SHERIFF IS CHAMBER SPEAKER

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 17.—Herman Zabel, finger print expert of the Santa Ana police force and Sam Jernigan of Santa Ana were the main speakers on the program of the local Lions club here yesterday.

J. W. Barlow and Ed Manning were chairman of the day at the meeting of the club. Mr. Zabel talked to considerable length of the science of finger prints. Music was supplied the club by the local dance hall orchestra.

A resolution was passed that the club stand behind the project of all Orange county Lions clubs joining together for the benefit and improvement of conditions in the county. Several changes in committees for coming events were also made by President Clark H. Reid.

CHANGE 'PHONES TO BATTERY SYSTEM

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 17.—Between sixty and seventy of the local telephones have been changed from the old magneto system of calling the operator to the common battery system, during the past week, it was announced today by E. H. Cockingham, manager of the local telephone company.

The step to change the telephones was taken up some time ago but various delays were encountered. With the change of the system it is thought that much better service can be given the subscribers. Cables have been strung over the city and everything is in readiness for the changes as fast as they can be made by the men now employed for the purpose.

It is thought that about seventy phones will be changed each week until the entire system has been changed. It will take until early in February before the system will be entirely switched and probably later until everything is working smoothly.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 17.—Chamber of Commerce and local merchants are considering the proposal of a moving picture company for the purpose of advertising the city.

C. E. Hewitt, general manager of the Essential Film Company of Redondo Beach, has been in the city for the past few days working on the proposition and has pointed out the many advantages of the film advertising.

Mr. Hewitt plans to take pictures of the business, residential, and farming districts surrounding the city and also of the oil fields as they are at present and run them in connection with a set of films showing the town as it was several years ago.

According to reports the business men of the city are ready to cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce in putting the plan over. The many advantages possessed by the town in its proximity to Orange county harbor, and the construction of the new coast highway through this city add greatly to its attractiveness.

RUSH LAYING OF BEACH PAVEMENT

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 17.—With 2800 feet of the ocean avenue base laid on the twenty-foot strip of pavement to the city limits from Twenty-third street work on the base laying was today expected to be completed by the end of the week. Yesterday over 700 feet of the material was laid.

According to Contractor George M. Souter, in charge of the construction work, the laying of the Willie plastic top will commence immediately with the completion of the base. The laying of the top composition will commence at the city limits and will work back toward town.

Work on the laying of the top is expected to progress rapidly. Mr. Souter declared that at least 2100 feet of the top material should be laid each day. With the present progress being made the pavement from the city limits to Twenty-third street should be open to the public some time the first of next week. This will eliminate the detour which has been in use for some time.

The pavement is ready for use as soon as it is laid and will be open to traffic immediately. Work on the top laying of the eighty-foot pavement will be slower, with about two blocks per day expected to be the maximum progress.

BUILDING PERMITS IN WEEK AT $1000

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 17.—Building permits for the week total nearly $1000. It is shown by the report of the department. Five permits were issued during the week.

A permit was issued to Pearl Johnson, to move a two story frame lodging house from the front of his lot at the corner of Fifth and Orange streets to the rear of the lot. F. F. Thorpe is to move the building. The estimated cost of moving was set at $500. A permit was also issued for improvements and repairs at $250.

J. S. Thatcher of 519 Seventeenth street was issued a permit to construct a frame garage on his lot at the above address. The building is estimated to cost $110.

S. E. Talbert was issued a permit to move a house from the camp grounds to the corner of Thirteenth street and Main street. Estimated improvements to the building were set at $100.

W. M. Potts of 625 Lake street was issued a permit to erect a frame garage at 621 Lake street. The cost of the building was estimated as $100.

GAS METERS FALL OFF
HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 17.—Falling below the regular installation of meters the gas department records for the week registered but four meters, installed during the past week. The average up to the present time for the month has been nearly four meters per day. Meters were installed during the past week for the following: I. E. Heyling, 1516 Acacia street; Harry Larson, 819 Main street; James Dingle, 108 Fifteenth street; E. Jones, 116 Seventh street.

AUXILIARY WOMEN MEET
HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 17.—The Auxiliary of the Oil Workers union here spent a pleasant evening Monday night when they gathered together with their families at the Women's club house to play five hundred and whist. The card games lasted until late into the evening with beautiful prizes given to the winners of the various events. Refreshments were served to the guests late in the evening.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 17.—Franklin Grouard, of Santa Ana, was last night appointed to the position of Sous Grand Conductor by Grand Chef De Train Ben Shanberg, of the state organization of 40 and 8. The appointment gives the Orange County Voiture their first state officer.

The meeting was held at the municipal auditorium and the initiation of several "goofs" was the feature of the evening. Edward Sherman of Anaheim and C. G. Blair of Huntington Beach were the "goofs" initiated into the county playground order of the American Legion.

A parade through the downtown district with the "goofs" leading the procession was the special attraction of the evening. Local residents turned out in force to watch the event.

Entertainment was also furnished the members by a bevy of beautiful girls and special music was rendered for the occasion. It was decided to hold the meeting next month at Santa Ana. The date of the meeting will be set later.

SAFETY LIGHT IS ASKED BY CHAMBER

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 17.—Several matters of importance were taken up at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce here Tuesday noon.

The matter of installing a safety signal at the north entrance of the viaduct which leads into town was taken up and the secretary was instructed to communicate with the Southern California Auto club on securing a light for the place.

A committee composed of S. R. Bowen, James A. Morris, and J. K. McDonald was appointed to investigate and report on the proceedings for entertaining the members of the G. A. R., who will hold their annual encampment here next summer.

A report was submitted by the committee on streets, parks, and municipal improvements, showing that petitions are at the present time out for the paving of both Walnut and Olive streets.

Locate Students Bootleg Suspect

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 17.—Al Martin, charged with operating a bootleg business that was patronized by high school students, who left the city when released on his own recognizance, was arrested in Oakland by Detective E. ## CITRUS MEN AT FULLERTON IN MARKET MOORE

Directors Vote to Market Fruit Through State Exchange Hereafter

FULLERTON, Jan. 17.—Dale King, manager of the Northern Orange Citrus Exchange, announced yesterday that the Fullerton Mutual Orange association had by unanimous action of its board of directors and approved at the annual stockholders' meeting, voted to market their fruit through the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, effective February 1.

This northern association last year shipped 250 cars, mostly Valencia, and will have an estimated output of 300 cars this season. This association operates two packing houses in Orange county, located at Fullerton and Brookhurst.

Until September 1, 1923, the exchange was a member of the Mutual Orange Distributors. For the past two years the Fullerton association has packed its Valencia under Elephant brands, by an arrangement with the Elephant Orchard company of Redlands. This agreement expires January 31.

On last September 1 the Elephant orchards withdrew from the Mutual Orange Distributors and the latter part of the 1923 Valencia crop of this association was marketed by the Elephant orchards independent of the Mutual Orange Distributors, according to Mr. King.

MOVIE STUFF IS PROVIDED BY PAIR

LAGUNA BEACH, Jan. 17.—While Hollywood scenario writers are racking their brains to give the public new thrills and new themes, a young chap and a girl, who proclaimed themselves brother and sister, staged a good comedy in the Pacific ocean at Laguna Beach.

Bill Kleiman attempted something that did not work, seemingly as he wished it to. He tried to turn an innocent Ford Coupe into a hydroplane. The "Henry" felt rather wretched and new themes, and roamed off the paved road and so onto the sand towards the Pacific ocean. It got stubborn and got stuck mid the waves which began to give "Henry" a bath.

But water is water and the Ford couldn't get any kick out of that, couldn't even run on it. So finally a troupe of eight huskies, together with the assistance of ropes and pulleys and a real automobile, dragged "Henry" out.

Bill took it as a good comedy, but Lillian got hysterical and returned tragically, making a new combination for the movies. Now arises the question, were they or were they not brother and sister? How come, that brother and sister do that kind of a moonish moon trick? Then again Lillian bowed out. Bill for the excitement of it. That looked more like they were married to each other for a long time. The couple, (newly wed or brother and sister) promised to visit the beach again, and the Pacific ocean.

Laguna Artist Is Delightful Host

LAGUNA BEACH, Jan. 17.—On Friday night, January 11, Karl Yens celebrated his birthday with an old fashioned goose dinner.

Harland Durand demonstrated his dexterity with the carving knife by his skillful dissecting of the fine big goose, which was accompanied by many delicacies. The noodles were especially appetizing, having been prepared by the hostess, a most accomplished cook, not only of noodles, but of many exceedingly palatable entrees.

The table decorations and place cards were decidedly unique, produced evidence of the host's artistic taste. Toasts and congratulations were followed by an evening of hilarious fun enjoyed by the guests. Mr. and Mrs. D. Forchheimer, Dr. Jessie G. ## BEACH WATER DRILLING IS CONTINUING

LAGUNA BEACH, Jan. 17.—The development of the Laguna Heights Water system is progressing very favorably and everything is being rushed as fast as possible to meet the demand of the coming season. The continuance of the extremely dry weather adds to the problem of the water delivery, and it is hoped that a large amount of rainfall will be had between now and the summer season.

Drilling Goes Ahead
The drilling of the deep well at Plant No. 2 is progressing very nicely, a depth of 462 feet having been reached. For the last 250 feet the rock encountered has been hard granite and the drilling goes very slowly. As the hole is drilled it has to be under-reamed to insure getting the casing down as the hole progresses. This well will be pushed to a depth of at least 1,000 or 1,500 feet.

At also gravel area was encountered at twenty-two feet and continued to forty feet. From forty feet to fifty-one feet clay and boulders were encountered. At fifty-one feet a large granite boulder was struck. The workers have succeeded in pushing to a depth of fifty-four feet when the drill broke. Water gravel was encountered and this heaves up into the well and shows quite a flow.

The problem now, however, is to reach the hole in the granite boulder to a sufficient size to allow the casing to be shoved through. This is being done as fast as possible and will require a week's labor. The gravel area encountered already in this hole looks very encouraging and the manager of the Laguna Heights Water System believes that a considerable volume of water will be developed in this well. The five inch line to distribute this water to Arch Beach and Laguna Heights is being welded together in sixty and seventy feet length at the supply station. A pump has been ordered to force the water into this line from the well with 150 pounds pressure at the source.

New Serra Well
San Juan Point corporation, of which the Skidmore brothers own a one-fourth interest, has developed a wonderful well at Serra station. It is estimated that 200 inches have been developed. It is understood that the Skidmore interests have acquired considerable acreage at the Serra station to eventually bring water to Laguna Beach. Joe Skidmore, in an interview, stated that there is not much hope of forming a company to bring water to Laguna Beach from that point. It will require, according to his statement, a quarter of a million dollars to bring this water to Laguna Beach. And there is not much hope of an individual putting up the money to do this unless the town incorporates and guarantees a return on the investment.

LIVE TUSTIN NOTES

WILL TAKE FEDERAL CENSUS OF LUMBER

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—California and Nevada lumber manufacturers in all branches of the trade are urged by federal foresters to co-operate in the collection of statistics on the lumber industry now being made by the United States forest service headquarters in this city for the census bureau. Such statistics, it is pointed out, are vital to the intelligent direction of the lumber business, and a special effort is being made to secure accurate figures for early publication.

In 1921 an act of congress was passed requiring the taking of a biennial census of all manufacturers in the United States, including the census of lumber and timber products.

This is the year of the biennial census, and the statistics on lumber manufacturers will cover not only sawmill products and lumber, lath and shingles, but also veneers, planing mill products and split wood and tan bark industries and other manufacturing in which wood is used.

Forest service officials say that one of the most difficult things in this kind of work is to keep the lists of operators in the various lumber industries complete and up to date.

Any California or Nevada manufacturer of wood products who fails to receive by January 20 a questionnaire requesting information on his business has been requested to notify the district forester, Forest building, San Francisco.

Opening Day For Country Club Is February 22

ORANGE, Jan. 17.—The opening day for the Fairway Country club, 26th course at Villa Park was officially set for Washington's birthday, February 22nd, at a meeting of the board of directors at Anaheim last evening.

The event, which has been looked forward to with eagerness by a large number of golf enthusiasts of Anaheim and Orange, where the club membership resides, will be celebrated by a banquet and ball in the evening, when members and guests will gather at the Elks club, Anaheim, in the club's first social affair.

BOOZE BLAMED BY BRIDE IN S. D. CASE

FULLERTON, Jan. 17.—One drink of Fullerton "bootleg" whiskey led an unwilling bride to the altar, according to testimony introduced in department No. 2 of the San Diego superior court on Monday in the suit of Alice Lee Stepp for annulment of her marriage to Ted R. Stepp. The plaintiff testified that she was driving from Los Angeles to San Diego in company with Stepp, who long had been an ardent but unsuccessful suitor for her hand.

"We stopped at Fullerton for dinner," the pretty plaintiff told the court, "and Ted offered me a drink from a bottle he obtained at that place. He assured me that it was not intoxicating and I took a drink, but not liking the taste, refused another. The next thing I knew we were passing through La Jolla and he told me that we had been married in Santa Ana. I have no recollection whatever of obtaining a marriage license or being married."

Immediately on their arrival in San Diego, she testified, she went to the home of her sister where she remained and steadily refused to live with the man she had married.

Judge Cary postponed his decision in the case for a week and asked that a certified copy of the marriage license be obtained as proof that the couple actually were wed.

CALIF. FORESTS POPULAR WITH PICKNICKERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—California's National Forests—America's Greatest Playground.

Figures on the 1923 recreation travel to the national forests of the Golden State, just released by the United States forest service headquarters here, show that 4,336,760 persons visited these great federal reservations during the past year in search of health, sport and enjoyment.

Nearly 2,420,000, or 56 per cent picknickers; 618,000 or 14 per cent campers; 430,000, or 10 per cent hotel and resort guests, and 100,000 or 2 per cent, summer-home owners and holders of special use permits from the forest service.

This is the first time in the history of the California district, forestry officials state, that a detailed figure estimate of the number of visitors to the seventeen national forests of the state has been made.

The Angeles national forest, in Southern California, with a total of 1,671,000 visitors heads the list. On the basis of the Forest service figures, no national park or national forest in the country is in the same class with the Angeles as a recreation center.

The records showing that more than 50,000 people frequently enter this popular mountain playground on a single Sunday or holiday. The Santa Barbara national forest, with 1,310,000 travelers, a million of whom were transient motorists, is a close second to the Angeles, while the Cleveland Forest, near San Diego, stands fourth on the list with 214,600 visitors.

More than 73 per cent of the total number of travelers in the national forests of the state, which extend from the Oregon line to the Mexican border, were recorded from these three Southern California forests.

The important place that the automobile has taken in summer recreation travel is also shown by the report, which indicates that of the total number of travelers entering the national forests during the past year, more than three and three-quarter millions, or 88 per cent, came in private cars.

Other interesting facts set forth by the report are:

Only 1 per cent of the 1923 travel into the national forests was by wagon or horseback; 141,000, or 3 per cent of the visitors were hikers; more than a million persons motored over the scenic ridge road in the Santa Barbara national forest; 500,000 picknickers and 133,000 campers visited the Angeles national forest, which is an all-year playground; 22,000 campers and picknickers used the Laguna recreation area maintained by the forest service in the Cleveland national forest.

LUMBER MEN AT ORANGE SELL BIG PLANT

Orange Firm Shows Huge Building Program With Sale of Property

ORANGE, Jan. 17.—In connection with a transaction whereby the Pease-Kolberg Lumber company changes ownership, going to Ed M. Smith, head of the Smith Lumber company, Anaheim, a $100,000 building program, part of which is now under way, was disclosed by the local firm, which is selling out to enter the realty field.

The building program calls for the construction of four business structures covering the block between Cypress street and the Santa Fe railroad on Chapman avenue.

The stucco building occupied by Pease-Kolberg offices will be used temporarily by the lumber company while a new office building is being erected at the lumber mill, located west of the Santa Fe tracks between Chapman avenue and Almond street.

After it is vacated, the structure will be razed, it was indicated, so that the two new buildings included in the Pease-Kolberg building program can be erected.

Ed M. Smith, head of the Anaheim concern that bought the local lumber yard, is widely experienced in the lumber game, having been associated with lumber firms in Western Canada for the past thirteen years. He has been at the helm of the Smith Lumber company at Anaheim for the last seven months.

George Mount, who has been identified with the Pease-Kolberg company for the past year, will continue as manager under the new firm, it was announced.

The business policy carried out by the local firm will be continued, Smith announced upon taking possession this morning.

"We will endeavor to even improve the service," he said. "The present stock will be enlarged and a remodeling program launched."

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Rub on Good Old Musterole That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once. Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blister.

Just rub it on with your fingertips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask

IRVINE NINE PUTS TOWN ON MAP

Beanpickers Prove Diamond Sport Will Pay If Good Baseball Played

From the most humble beginning and with only a world of courage and optimism, the Irvine baseball club has been made into a winning aggregation, and a financially successful one—a lesson to those in Santa Ana who doubt whether well played baseball would be a success here.

To Arthur Trickey, manager, goes most of the credit for the success of the Irvine Beanpickers. He has worked untiringly for the good of the sport at the little warehouse hamlet. He has passed any number of obstacles and put to rout the pessimists who said he couldn't make a go of baseball where the drawing power was limited.

Yet in the course of one year Trickey developed a baseball club that has more than once held its own with the best semi-professional organizations in Southern California.

Put Town On Map
Two years ago nobody knew much about Irvine except that they had a dangerous railroad crossing there and that motor cops were known to lurk along the highway close by. Today, Irvine is far better known and chiefly because a baseball team plays pretty fast baseball there and because they play pretty fast baseball they often break into the headlines of the newspapers.

Most of the players travel to Irvine every Sunday because they love baseball. The fans go there because they see baseball well played and on a good diamond. There are a lot of folk in Santa Ana who are satisfied baseball in this city would be just as successful if played under similar conditions.

Here's Season Record
The Irvine record since the team began its season late last summer for follows:

Sept. 9—Irvine 5, Barry's Classy 7.
Sept. 16—Irvine 6, El Monte 6 (12 innings).
Sept. 23—Irvine 3, Hughes Ice Cream Co. 4.
Sept. 30—Irvine 6, El Monte 1.
Oct. 7—Irvine 3, Hollywood 3.
Oct. 14—Irvine 9, Buick Autos 7.
Oct. 21—Irvine 4, Barry's Classy 3.
Oct. 28—Irvine 3, Associated Oil Co. 1.
Nov. 4—Irvine 15, Barry's Classy 10.
Nov. 11—Irvine 0, Universal Studios 6.
Nov. 18—Irvine 5, Associated Oil Co. 4.
Nov. 25—Irvine 5, Barry's Classy 8.
Dec. 2—Irvine 5, Buick Autos 7.
Dec. 16—Irvine 3, El Monte 4.
Dec. 30—Irvine 0, Associated Oil Co. 2.
Jan. 6—Irvine 2, White King Soaps 1.
Jan. 13—Irvine 8, Hughes Ice Cream Co. 6.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—Vernon and Los Angeles baseball clubs are getting a bit hot under the collar. The Pacific Coast league is getting to be worse than the Mexican republic, with its inept, and sometimes full grown, were every few days.

Howard Lorenz, Vernon representative at the Oakland meeting, was back in Los Angeles today with a big grouse. Oscar Reichow, Angel business manager, isn't in the best of disposition either.

The "Tigers" grievance is that they were given the worst of the new schedule and that their territorial rights in Los Angeles were taken away.

Sacramento has a wall also. The capital city is the smallest city in the circuit and the owners have never made big profits. It has been the policy of the league for years to give the sags a bigger cut on the gate when they were on the road than is given to the other clubs. Sacramento generally got 45 per cent, whereas the others received 40 per cent. This favoritism will be no more.

Trojan Cage Men Off for Berkeley

Kinks o' the Kinks

RANK JONES FIRST
Although Max Marston was the national amateur golf champion last year, he is not the only one to be ranked No. 1 among the amateurs of the country.

Marston is a fine golfer, but he hardly ranks above Bobby Jones, victor in the open championships at Inwood. And in the opinion of most critics Marston is not entitled to displace Chick Evans of Chicago, who for only a week or so, behind Jones in skill. Due to his victory in the national, Marston is properly rated in third position, behind Jones and Evans.

Jess Sweetser is at home in fourth place and Francis Ouimet in fifth. From this point on the classification becomes a matter of opinion.

$7,000 GOLF PURSE
What promises to be the richest monetary golf prize in the history of the game in this country will be hung up by the Santa Monica club, near Los Angeles, late in January. Prizes amounting to $7,000 will be given to the leading professionals. To the victor will go $2500.

"STUFFY BAGS AN 'ACE'"
Playing a round of golf recently over the Essex Country club, Stuffy McInnis of the Boston Braves, scored an "ace" on the fourth hole, measuring 150 yards in length. McInnis hit the ball with a spoon. It was his first "hole-in-one."

The Frederick (Md.) club will have a new park, a new manager, and many new players in the lineup when the Blue Ridge league starts its season.

MAC SMITH IS NEW STATE GOLF CHAMP

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—Macdonald Smith, of San Francisco, is the new California open golf champion.

The feature of the tournament, it seems, is not those who lead the list of 32, but the placing of the famous players who traveled across the continent to participate in the California contest.

Here is how the notables ranked: Arthur Havers 29th; Joe Kirkwood, 4th; George Von Elm, 9th; Gene Sarazen, 10th; Willie L. Hunter, 15th; James Ockenden, 18th.

LEAVENWORTH HAS IT, TOO!

Los Angeles Times, take notice!
With your readiness to print large items indicating that a certain recent disagreeable illness is confined to Santa Ana and your readiness to ignore any such thing in Los Angeles—witness the present smallpox epidemic reported as having a run in Los Angeles—it is with our respects that we refer you to a telegraph item appearing in the Los Angeles Examiner this morning.

The dispatch comes by International News Service and is headed "Strange Malady in Leavenworth Baffles Doctors." It reads as follows:
LEAVENWORTH, Kan., January 16.—Baffling doctors in diagnosis, approximately 1000 persons are well today from a strange malady which has recently made its appearance here. Victims are suddenly seized with nausea and attacks of vomiting and dysentery follow.
It was at first thought the city water supply was to blame, but hundreds of cases are reported at homes where only water from wells is used.

And this item is referred not only to the Los Angeles Times but it is referred to the thoughtful consideration of no small number of Santa Anans, who, doubtless, will recognize the illness described, and to the state health officers who, it seems to us, have been unnecessarily slow in making a report and clearing up numerous distressing rumors that have swung the circle of "they say" in this vicinity.

GET RID OF BORDER SHAME

Congressman Phil D. Swing's proposal, introduced at Washington this week, ought to have instant and unanimous support from every moral force in his district. It is deserving of the support of moral forces everywhere, but particularly from those in this district, for this district has long had to bear the brunt of the crime and shame and disorder that center at Tia Juana and Mexicali.

The effort being put forth by the congressman is for a treaty with Mexico whereby drinking and gambling places such as are found at Tia Juana and Mexicali cannot be lawfully operated within fifty miles of the border.

California has suffered much from those places. If there is anything that can be done to get rid of them, for heaven's sake let us throw ourselves into the fight.

THIS IS THRIFT WEEK

Today marks the opening of National Thrift Week. There has been a tendency of late on the part of those who subdivide and rechristen the calendar to include subjects so trivial that many of them do not deserve a day, or even an hour of celebration. Among the movements, however, which really seem worth while, is the National Thrift Week program, fostered by a committee organized for that purpose by the Y. M. C. A. January 17th was selected as the opening day of the week, since it was the birthday of Benjamin Franklin, the outstanding apostle of thrift in our history.

The object of this very practical educational program is "to help the individual in personal money matters in the realms of earning, spending, saving, investing and giving." The slogan is "For Success and Happiness."

The committee has promulgated a ten point success creed, a casual consideration of which would indicate that it contains many if not all of the fundamentals of success. These are: Work and earn; make a budget; record expenditures; have a bank account; carry life insurance; own your home; make a will; invest in safe securities; pay bills promptly and share with others. The committee has set apart each day of Thrift Week for emphasis of one of these creed points. Today being the first day of the week is Thrift Day itself.

President Walter W. Head of the American Bankers Association says that if American young people could be induced to accept such a program seriously, "it would bring an era of prosperity hitherto unapproached. It would mean extensive elimination of poverty, better health and greater happiness. These things would result because the program not only advocates saving, but emphasizes the obligation to treat the possession of wealth as a sacred trust, to employ it in useful ways that will advance the welfare of mankind."

President Head's conclusions are undoubtedly right. Thrift is essential to the healthy economic life of a nation.

STIMULUS FOR PEACE TALK

Regardless of whether the peace plan which has won the Bok award wins also general public approval, it is serving an excellent purpose in focussing attention again on the whole question of international peace, the Permanent Court of International Justice, the League of Nations and the attitude of the United States toward these things. There cannot be too much thought about these problems.

Edward Bok's proposal of a reward for the best peace plan presented with laughter at a little at first and then, except for the many individuals who sent in plans, people forgot about it or became apathetic toward it. Now the fact that one plan has won its author the $100,000 award again centers interest in the matter. A widespread expression of opinion on the subject should be informing and useful.

CAPITALISM SAVES RUSSIA

"Communism in Russia has been postponed for a couple of generations," says a returned Russian-American traveler. "It was a failure, and the country is returning to capitalism. The government says the people are not ready for it, that they still like individual rewards for individual efforts."

So Russians, after all, are very much like other races. And Russian officials are very much like public officials elsewhere. When they find that a theoretical program will not work, and their administration is doomed to failure unless it changes its program, they go ahead and change. When they run square up against basic facts in human nature, they surrender to human nature. Theory, in public administration, always has to yield to facts sooner or later. The result is seen in the increasing improvement in the life of the people. "When I went to Russia, 18 months ago," says the traveler, "I saw children begging at the railway stations. There is none of that now. There is no censorship, no starvation, little poverty. It is hard to visualize the complete change that has taken place."

So hated "capitalism" is saving Russia, after all. It has its defects, but it happens to be the only system at present on this earth which will stimulate men and women to sufficient economic production to keep society alive and moving.

Eventually the desire for personal gain may be supplanted by a general desire to work for the community. If so, socialism will come as a matter of course. But that will probably take more than "a couple of generations," in Russia or elsewhere.

Value of Aerial Polar Trip

Stockton Independent

There are few if any undertakings that could appeal more to imagination or arouse more public interest than the proposed flight of an airship across the Arctic region, over the North Pole, and return to civilization. While the enterprise probably would not be so hazardous to the participants as many an arctic exploration ventured in sea going vessels, yet it is such a wide departure from methods whose possibilities and probabilities have been demonstrated by experience that it creates the impression of possessing new dangers. The objective is worth while, and, if men choose to take the risk, they will be accorded unstinted praise and will be accompanied by all the good wishes of the people of the country.

The distance to be traversed is not as great as most people would believe without having studied the map. In fact, the round trip, if fairly good luck be had, could be completed in 48 hours or less. Nevertheless, there are so many unknown factors to be considered, so many conditions unfamiliar to navigators of the air, that one need not be accused of pessimism if he regards the chances of success as exceedingly small. But the venture cannot be a complete failure. Even though a part or all of the adventurous explorers fail to return, they will at least ascertain some of the obstacles to be overcome and will thus assure the success of later undertakings of the same sort.

Fortunately for the cause of science, recent inventions have added much to the value of such a tour of exploration and have increased the probability of its success. Not the least of these is the system of aerial photography developed by an American inventor, Sherman L. Fairchild, whose cameras have been used with great success in mapping cities, mountains and forests. A series of photographs of the arctic region will afford highly valuable material for careful study under the magnifying glass in the security and comfort of the scientist's office at home and for the entertainment and instruction of people who may view them through the aid of the silver screen.

Reforestation Plans

Riverside Press

It is encouraging to know that work of reforestation is to be undertaken in Southern California, where so many forest fires have denuded mountain sides and imperiled our water supply sources.

At the meeting of the Tri-Counties Reforestation committee in Riverside a few days ago State Forester Pratt told members of the committee that the State Board of Forestry has a program of forest replacement now under way, and that this program is receiving the aid of the federal foresters to the extent of their ability. In furtherance of these plans a move is on foot to locate a reforestation office and district in Southern California. This established some years ago in Oregon and Idaho and are doing a constructive work in replanting the barren hills. It is announced that state senators and congressmen will be asked to help raise the deficiency in this state.

Preservation of forest areas is so closely linked up with water conservation that the two might well be considered as one great enterprise, and one which should receive the aid and encouragement of all good citizens.

Editorial Shorts

A few months ago Governor Richardson appointed Judge J. W. Curtis of San Bernardino to a vacancy on the appellate court. The appointment was recognized as a highly suitable one and gave general satisfaction throughout Southern California. It was hoped that Judge Curtis would be conceded the election to the place at the state election next fall. Los Angeles, however, having all the other judges in the two divisions of the appellate court, does not propose to let this place get away and is planning to put a candidate in the field. Judge Craft or Judge Shenk are under consideration and it is expected that Los Angeles will line up for one or the other as against Judge Curtis. The only objection to Judge Curtis is that he does not live in Los Angeles, but that is a serious handicap.—Riverside Press.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

THE COMMON COLD

If you were to ask your family doctor what was the most common ailment in the human family he would tell you that it was constipation. And the next? Well what people call "colds" would likely be the next most common ailment. Your doctor would tell you another thing and that is that the ordinary common cold, in its cause of many serious ailments of the chest, kidneys and other organs of the body.

Of course some head colds are simply due to dust. For instance if you handle a number of books that have been put away for some time, the dust will irritate your nose and throat and you'll have a typical head cold.

However most colds are due to something lowering your resisting powers. The whole tone of your body becomes lowered. Sudden changes in temperature, wet weather, overeating, undereating, overwork, insufficient sleep, are factors.

Your common sense tells you that you can't be careless, can't "take a chance" and not expect to have to pay for it. Many a draft has been blamed for causing a cold, because in a crowded room some one has opened a window.

If the people in that room have been sitting with their outer wraps on, or have allowed the temperature of the room to go away up, their bodies will be bathed in perspiration. The cold air striking that hot body may check the perspiration and start a little trouble.

Someone has well said "It's the indoor man that catches the cold, not the outdoor man, that is out in the cold all the time."

What's the point?

That bad air, air that has been used by too many people, air with the dust and organic particles from other people, breathed by someone who is not at all physically, is really the actual cause of the common cold. You know, as I've said before, most of the troubles you suffer from are always in you. They are in your intestine, your breath, your nose, or mouth, even in your lungs and liver. They do no harm as long as your blood is rich and pure.

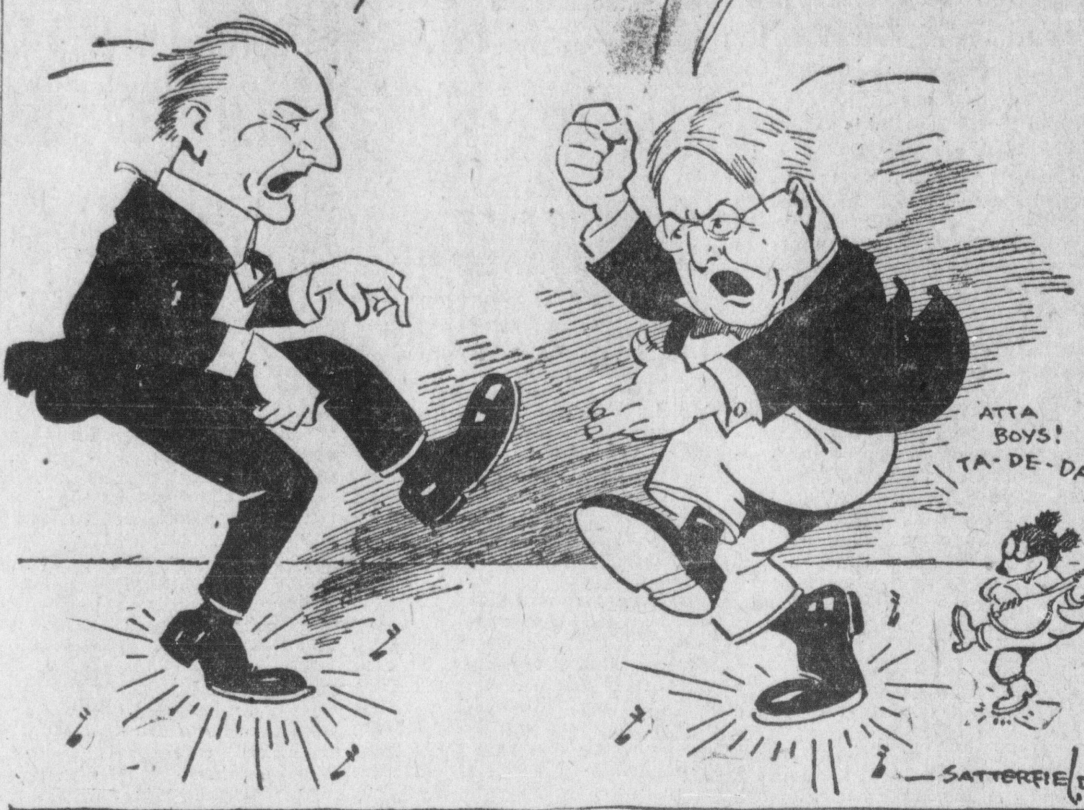

If it falls below normal, due to above causes, then these harmful substances get busy and put you down.

Our National Safety

Better American Federation

The framers of the Constitution regarded as dangers to be carefully guarded against, both autocracy and unlicensed democracy. Therefore, they provided checks and balances which, if adhered to, would as wisely protect the power of the legislative and judiciary to enact and enforce laws, as it guarded the rights of the public-at-large against illegal encroachments. They founded this government upon a basis of endurable liberty avoiding the danger of investing unbridled authority in the courts, the abuse of which would lead to despotism; and the danger of too little authority, which would lead to anarchy.

In Federalist No. 10, Hamilton said: "The instability, injustice and confusion introduced into the public councils have, in truth, been the mortal diseases under which popular governments have everywhere perished." This is being exemplified today in our present Congress. Whether consciously or unconsciously, "instability, injustice and confusion" have been injected into our councils by attacks on the state department in its efforts to avoid the self-evident risk that would result from official recognition of the soviet government.

Evidence that Russian propaganda has been directed from Moscow in many ways against the government of the United States, creating a serious menace that now confronts this nation, is so overwhelming as to subject to distrust, by a large proportion of citizens, any who deny this. This is not a question of partisan politics; it is a direct question of loyalty or disloyalty. If ignorance incapacitates rendering judgment, excusing these dangers with a knowledge of facts immediately challenges loyalty.

Secretary Hughes would not have taken his firm stand against soviet recognition unless fortified with proofs. It is fortunate that the issue is being brought to a head. It will be far easier to deal with now than wait for it to gain cumulative power. If any confirmation were needed of the truth of the warnings that the Better American Federation has presented during the past few years, it is amply afforded by the present situation.

Worth While Verse

WHEN THE OTHER FELLOW'S DRIVING

When another fellow's driving,
Though I constantly am striving
To behave the way a passenger should do;
Still in spite of my endeavor
I discover I am ever
Sitting tensely there beside him—driving too.

At the highway I keep peering
And my mind is busy steering,
And I figure every chance the driver takes;
In a manner highly graphic,
When he's threading through the traffic,
I keep putting on imaginary brakes.

In his skill and in his science
I may fondly place reliance,
I may bow to his experience and years,
Yet I sit there all acquiescent,
In a six or in a flivver,
While my mind is feeding gas or shifting gears.

So wherever I am riding
I am driving, I am guiding—
An imaginary wheel is in my hand!
With the closest application
I conduct each operation—
If you ever drove a car you'll understand.

WHEN THE HAMMER FELL

"H'm!" said the head clerk. "Got an accident to report, have you, Robson? Well, just fill up one of these forms, will you?"

"Yes, sir," said the foreman of the works, and handed the report to the clerk. It read:

"Date, September 1st. Nature of accident: Bill Brown's toe crushed. How caused: accidental blow from hammer. Remarks: 'I see you've omitted 'remarks,' the head clerk commented. 'Beg pardon, sir,' said the foreman, 'but it was his big toe, with a corn on it, and you know what Bill is, sir. So I thought I'd better leave his remarks out!'"

Your Income Tax

By the Bureau of Internal Revenue

INCOME TAX IN NUTSHELL

WHO? Single persons who had net income of $1,000 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more, and married couples who had net income of $2,000 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more must file returns.

WHEN? The filing period is from January 1 to March 15, 1924.

WHERE? Collector of internal revenue for the district in which the person lives or has his principal place of business.

HOW? Instructions on Form 1040A and Form 1040; also the law and regulations.

WHAT? Four per cent normal tax on the first $4,000 of net income in excess of the personal exemption and credits for dependents. Eight per cent normal tax on balance of net income. Surplus from 1 per cent to 50 per cent on net incomes over $6,000 for the year 1923.

ARTICLE NO. 13.

The deduction allowed an employer for salaries or wages of employees is defined by the revenue act as "a reasonable allowance for salaries or other compensation for services actually rendered."

dered." Such claims to be allowed must conform closely to the wording of the statute.

The test of deductibility is whether the amounts paid are reasonable, and whether they are, in fact, purely for personal services. Reasonable compensation is held by the Bureau of Internal Revenue to be the amount that would ordinarily be paid for like services by like enterprises in like circumstances.

A person who claims a deduction for wages or salary paid himself should report the amount as income, just as any other wages or salary received. Salaries or wages paid by a parent to a minor child who has not been emancipated—allowed control of his earnings—whether in consideration of services or otherwise are not allowable deductions.

Bonuses paid employees may be deducted by the employer when such payments are made in good faith as compensation for services actually rendered, provided that when added to the stipulated salary they do not exceed a reasonable compensation. Such bonuses must be included in the returns of the recipients. Gifts to employees which do not have in them the element of compensation may not be deducted by the employer, and need not be included in the return of the recipient.

"Spirit, Mind and Body"

[With the beautiful Y. M. C. A. building nearing completion (at a cost of $300,000), interest in Y. M. C. A. organization and work is increasing. And that its readers may be fully informed, the Register will publish under this heading, a series of articles setting forth the principles and policies of this great agency of social service.]

Physically Fit, Strong and Clean

Even as Jesus Himself counted it a part of His service to men that He should heal the sick and relieve the suffering, so the Y. M. C. A., working in His name, counts it a part of its responsibility to help men to keep themselves physically fit and strong and clean. This is the reason back of the gymnasium, swimming pool and other facilities for physical work.

The Y. M. C. A. does not attempt to train athletes and stunt performers in its physical work. It rarely puts out a big representative team to compete for honors with teams from other cities. It never engages in professional athletics. The purpose, rather, is to encourage the great number of members to play and exercise for health.

For this purpose, an elaborate equipment has been provided in the new building, and a competent, well-trained, Christian man is being brought to the city to take charge of the physical work. He will direct men and boys in their play. He will give physical examinations, and will suggest special exercises to correct individual weaknesses. He will instruct in the various games, and will arrange for teams among the members to compete with each other. He will teach swimming and life saving, direct in sex education and in general health culture, and will become a leader in the community in the interests of greater efficiency and better health.

It is an accepted fact that much of the physical weakness and infirmity of the present day citizen is the result of his failure to exercise, play, work and eat correctly. The Y. M. C. A. gymnasium makes it easy to get the required instruction in right living in the most agreeable manner, and thus it is a powerful agent in promoting community health.

When a prominent citizen in another city said, "It were not for the Y. gymnasium, I would have been in the graveyard years ago," he spoke the truth. Thousands of busy men of the business and professional world are keeping themselves fit and are increasing their ability to do their work by regular attendance at Y. M. C. A. gymnasiums. Thousands of boys and young men are fortifying themselves against disease and are fitting themselves to meet the demands of modern life by the instruction they are receiving from Christian physical directors.

Santa Ana is fortunate in having an equipment for physical work that is second to none. The great airy gymnasium, 50x80 feet in size, with a splendid equipment of apparatus for games and class work, will become a veritable hall of health for this community. The spacious outdoor playground will attract multitudes of men and boys for the best kind of recreation, in the open air.

The beautiful swimming pool and shower baths, tile lined, sanitary, comfortable, and safe, will give additional effectiveness to the work of health culture, and will make it possible for people to learn to swim, and then to enjoy swimming, in a safe place, throughout the year.

The pool is 20x60 feet in extent, finished in tile, perfectly ventilated, pleasantly lighted, and altogether inviting. The water will be kept purified by a special filtration system, and will be heated to a comfortable temperature by a special heater. The baths will be provided with soft water, a water softener having been installed to protect the plumbing pipes and to add to the convenience of bathers.

All of this fine equipment is to be used by the Association in the spirit of Christian service, to help make people better, to promote happiness and efficiency, as a part of the service to the community.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 24—MOTHER GOOSE RETURNS

The Market Town Fair was a great success.

The Plemman sold out over and over again, and even Greedy Nan said that for once in her life she had had enough to eat. The Popcorn Man said he had sold enough popcorn to trim a thousand Christmas trees, and as for lemonade! Well, it's a living wonder that the Daddy Gander Land people didn't float away altogether and never come back.

Nancy and Nick had ten rides on the roller-coaster, eight running—no, I don't mean to say that the roller coaster was straight running. Roller coasters never are! But they had ten rides in a row. And then they decided that they would try the Ferris Wheel.

Daddy Gander bought a whole strip of tickets.

It was great fun to get into one of the little seats in the great wheel and then begin to mount slowly toward the sky. When you were up there it was like being on top of a mountain. You could look down at the earth spreading out like a map under your feet, and it made you feel ever and ever so important.

Well, by and by, lunch time came, and then such a hurrying for baskets and boxes and a scurrying to find shady places to spread table cloths on the grass.

All at once there was a rustling among the tree-tops and who should come gliding down to earth but Mother Goose, smiling her jolliest smile.

"Oh, goodness!" whispered Miss Sprat to Jack. "I left my front porch and walk in a dreadful way."

I do hope I can get back home and clean it up before Mother Goose sees it!"

And Misses Dimples and Misses Blue said about the same thing. Everybody in Daddy Gander Land, I must say Mother Goose Land, now that she was back, was thinking of how he or she had hurried away and left the morning's work half finished.

But poor Daddy Gander! He was the most worried person of all. And he whispered to the Twins that he and Tom Tinker would have to manage to turn the gate sign around before Mother Goose would see it. And he was just about to step on his magic dustpan and wish himself out of that, when Mother Goose spied him.

"Hello, daddy! There you are!" she cried heartily. "I'm glad to know you've taken affairs into your own hands at last and that you call this place after yourself. I'm getting too old to go gallivanting through the sky any more and you can take my place. Hereafter I stay at home and take it easy and you can run things to suit yourself!"

"You don't mean it, mother!" he exclaimed.

"Indeed I do! And I wish to say you were all very sensible to not waste any of this nice weather. Steps and door-mats and walks can wait. Fairs don't come every day, and one can sweep any time."

"Hurrah for Mother Goose!" cried everybody.

"Hurrah for Daddy Gander!" cried the Twins.

And everybody was happy.
